FIXED BAYONETS WITHOUT TERROR FOR THE STRIKERS

Hundreds of Troops Patrol Streets of Buffalo, But the Strikers Succeed in Blocking Trolley System.

WOMAN FATALLY SHOT WHEN TROOPS USE GUNS

Two Other Persons Wounded. More Troops Are to Be Called Out if Gov. Sulzer Is Willing.

Buffalo, N. Y., April 9.—Troops with fixed bayonets held no terror for the striking carmen of the International Railway company and their sympathizers today, and the riotous scenes of former days of the strike were not only as numerous but of a more serious nature. All efforts to resume traffic were blocked, and all the cars were withdrawn at nightfall after an intermittent operation of less than four hours.

Once during the afternoon the troops used their rifles. A woman and man were wounded and a boy received a thrust from a bayonet. The woman probably will die.

Efforts of the mayor to bring about a settlement by arbitration met little encouragement from the company's side. William D. Mahon, of Detroit, president of the Amalgamated Association of Street and Electric Railway Employees', outlined to the mayor the men's grievances and offered to lay them before a board of arbitration. President Connette, of the railroad company, conferred with the mayor, but neither would divulge what passed between them.

More Troops to Be Called.

The fact that the calling of more troops was under serious consideration tonight was taken as an indication that a peaceful settlement still was a remote possibility. With over 300 miles of street car tracks to patrol, the 3,000 men under command of Brigadier General Welch proved an ineffective policing force.

If more troops are to be brought here the order must be issued by Governor Sulzer.

The most serious disorders of the day occurred on Main street, almost within the business section and on Niagara street, near the International bridge. It was at the latter point that the trouble leading to bloodshed occurred. Near the International bridge the Niagara street car lines pass under a railroad bridge.

A gang of rioters carrying heavy timbers rushed upon the bridge as a car was approaching and tried to drop a railroad tie upon it. It missed the car. The rioters were preparing to drop more obstructions when troops ordered them to halt. They jeered at the soldiers. Another warning was given while the soldiers leveled their rifles. The hooting and jeering continued and another piece of timber came over the side of the bridge.

A Dozen Rifles Cracked.

"Fire!" came the command. A dozen rifles replied. A boy and a woman fell. The crowd which had rapidly assembled in large proportions broke and began to chase the street car that had just passed under the bridge.

The soldiers followed with fixed bayonets and drove the throng to the curbs. During the melee one man received a bayonet thrust in the hand. The wounded in this disturbance were:

Mrs. Ida Lorich, 25 years old, shot in back; fatally injured.

Thomas Amesden Amesden, 22 years old; bayonet thrust in right hand.

There were several other exchanges of shots between soldiers and rioters without serious results.

THEY ATE COMPANION TO SAVE OWN LIVES

Paris, April 9.—Mail advice from French Guinea give details of a horrible story of cannibalism. Four inmates of the penitentiary of the colony named Mouillard, Bachcreau, Fossey and Machevel, made their escape. Three of the men were recaptured in a boat at the mouth of the Mana river.

According to their story, they wandered in the forest for eight days. Their scanty provisions were soon finished. Machevel dropped from exhaustion. The others decided to kill and eat him. Machevel made a feeble effort to run, but was struck down and eaten by his companions. They struggled on as far as the river, where they found a boat. They intended to make for the open sea, but were driven ashore.

DO you just "shop around"? Or do you know where you're going before you start? Shopping trips should be planned with the one end in view—getting the most and best for the least. And the advertisements in The Constitution are your safe guides. Read them, prepare your list from them. Then visit the stores the yrepresent. In this way your shopping will be a pleasure and you'll effect a positive saving in time and money.

400,000 WORKERS READY TO STRIKE FOR THE BALLOT

All Laborers in Belgium to Quit Monday in Effort to Force Government to Grant Manhood Suffrage.

WOMEN AND CHILDREN FLEEING OVER FRONTIER

Panic in Belgium Caused by Proposed Strike Resembles Consternation Caused by War—Country in Gloom.

Brussels, Belgium, April 9.—The first active move in preparation for a great general strike to enforce the grant of manhood suffrage in Belgium was made today by the sending out of the country of many children of the 300,000 or 400,000 workers, who will lay down their tools on Monday, April 14, at the bidding of the socialist party.

It is expected that the train service will cease or be greatly impeded after Sunday, and the wives and daughters of hundreds of workmen with the little ones of their own families or those of neighbors are crossing the frontiers on every train, placing the non-combatants, as it were, in safety in neutral states. Offers of provisional homes abroad have arrived this week at the rate of 1,000 daily, and the directing committee of the strike has received 11,000 offers thus far, 6,000 from France, 4,000 from Holland and 1,000 from Germany.

Trade has increased in all kinds of preserved foods, beans, rice and flour and the sales of illuminating oils and candles have tripled.

Last Desperate Measure.

The strike has been decided on by the Belgium socialist party as the last desperate measure to make the government give Belgium a system of manhood suffrage instead of the plural voting now in practice. Its success or nonsuccess will be of consequence to the world at large, for if it succeeds it will demonstrate the practicability of the strike as a political weapon. Previous attempts at political as distinguished from economic strikes have invariably ended in failure, notably in Spain and France, and the opinion has been generally held that the political strike is impossible.

The Belgian movement appears to have been planned with extraordinary skill and care; the workers are determined and full of faith in the justice of their cause, the resources at their disposal are considerable, both in money and kind, and they have the practical though unofficial support of the liberals, none the less vigorous from being indirect. The proprietor of the liberal newspaper, The Petit Bleu, has promised formally to pay $20,000 per week into the strike fund as long as the movement lasts, and the strikers assert they can hold out for six weeks.

Turning Point in History.

Many Belgians believe that this strike will prove a turning point in the history of Belgium; that it will result in political changes of incalculable importance, and some even predict a revolution—the separation of the Walloon and Flemish provinces, or a dynastic crisis.

The government, faced with this serious problem, meaning economic catastrophe for an industrial country like Belgium, has occupied itself chiefly in making arrangements to repress disorder, which the socialists deride, as they are determined the strike shall be peaceful.

The socialist chiefs, Emile Vandervelde and Edouard Anseele, affirm that any violence which may occur will be provoked by the government, and not by them.

It is understood that all the gendarmes are to be called upon, as well as the civil guard and several classes of troops mobilized to guard the railroads and assure the public services. Large coal orders have been placed in England and Germany so as to insure a constant supply of fuel for the state railroads.

Cause of the Movement.

The primary cause of the movement was the defeat of the liberal and socialist coalition in the parliamentary elections of 1912. The socialist congress, specially summoned June 30 of that year, decided to make use of a general strike if all other means of obtaining manhood suffrage failed. Before resorting to that measure, a general suffrage bill was introduced into parliament by the socialists and supported by the liberals. This was refused all consideration by the clerical majority, and a general strike was voted for April 14.

Steps were taken on all sides to try and settle matters. The burgomasters of the nine principal cities were received by the premier, who, while declaring that no government worthy of the name would allow itself to be intimidated by the threats of the mob, said that if the menace of a general strike were removed he would be disposed to talk.

The socialist national committee thereupon cancelled its previous decision and Belgium breathed anew.

Country in Complete Gloom.

The government, however, made no move at all and the socialist congress at Easter again voted the general strike, and on Monday coal mines will be deserted, furnaces shut down and factories and workshops abandoned; big cities will be without light or street cars and the port of Antwerp without dock laborers.

The country is in complete gloom, and it is felt that every person is likely to suffer in some way, whatever position he or she may occupy.

The socialists themselves are somewhat divided and the voting on the strike in the lodges throughout Belgium indicated that from a quarter to a third of their number is opposed to the movement.

A good many influential persons hope that as the hour approaches a compromise will be arranged.

CREMATORY STRIKE IS THREATENED NOW

Union Mechanics May Quit Work Because Griffin Construction Company Has Declared Open Shop.

A general strike which will halt work on Atlanta's new $376,800 crematory is threatened by James Hickey, vice president of the International Brotherhood of Brickmasons and Plasterers, because W. W. Griffin, president of the Griffin Construction company, has declared for "open shop" on the job and will not discriminate against non-union mechanics.

Griffin has a $50,000 subcontract with the New York Destructor company to build a concrete wall and part of the masonry. He has already completed nearly $20,000 of the work with non-union mechanics, and states that he will finish the job under the "open shop" policy. He will be called upon now to start work on the walls of one unit which is scheduled to be burning in June.

Break Came Saturday.

The break between Griffin and the union masons and plasterers occurred Saturday when Vice President Hickey, who is in Atlanta organizing several big jobs, received a complaint from the men working under a union agreement, that they would refuse to work at the side of non-union men. Fearing a break would occur Monday morning, Superintendent P. D. Canham, representative of the Destructor company, conferred with Captain R. M. Clayton, the city engineer. At a later conference, Vice Fesident Hickey agreed to the city opening peace negotiations with the executive committee of the union in Indianapolis.

"I have no fight with the unions," Contractor Griffin said Wednesday afternoon. "I have always declared for open shop, and will continue that policy under the contract I have with the Destructor company.

"My contract does not stipulate that I shall employ union labor. If it had been put in the contract I would not have agreed to it. I shall reserve the right on this job not to discriminate against non-union men."

Will Ask Sympathetic Strike.

Vice President Hickey says that he will call off the union masons and plasterers, and will ask the other union mechanics to leave the job in sympathy with the strikers.

Superintendent Canham has wired the international officers for a special dispensation. He says that the Destructor company, the corporation in charge of all the work on the crematory, has always employed union men.

"I am paying masons 50 cents an hour and time and a half for overtime work, whereas the union scale is only 45 cents an hour," he says. "We have the most skilled men obtainable to work on the job.

"In making the contract with the Griffin Contracting company, the clause providing for the working of only union men on the job was accidentally overlooked. For that reason we are asking for a dispensation. The trouble is not between the union men and the Destructor company."

Union Workers Stipulated.

The brick smokestack was erected by the Harne Chimney company under a contract which stipulated that the work be done by union mechanics. The Virginia Bridge company is erecting the structural steel portion of the cre-

Don't Marry Under Twenty-One, Is Advice of Mrs. Ione Pidcock

"I MARRIED AT 19; JUST LOOK AT ME NOW"

Mrs. Ione Pidcock sat in her apartments in the Dakota hotel last night and advised a young reporter how to avoid the pitfalls of matrimony, into which, she lamented, she had fallen. The theme of her discourse was: "Don't marry too young."

She also denounced the "unwritten law," advocated strict marriage regulations, and hurled verbal vitriol at the ministers who would marry couples of the tender age of 17 and under.

"I married at nineteen, and there's the answer," she said, smilingly and without the slightest tone of bitterness. She is a trim, auburn-haired little woman with a girlish twinkle in her eyes.

Throughout the entire interview, she evinced no signs of remorse or unhappiness. She was laughing and buoyant, and more like a truant child than the principal character in the unsavory case in which she figures. She was dressed in a neat traveling suit.

"There should be a universal law prohibiting marriage under the age of 21," she said. "There is the root of all our matrimonial troubles. From 23 to 25 is the ideal age, and couples who wed at that time are seldom unhappy. This puppy love of 17-year-olds is a disgrace to our country, and such marriages are the nourishment our divorce courts thrive on.

Marriage Greatest Thing on Earth.

"You can't be happy until you know your wife and she knows you, and that's a fact, a settled fact. And it's truer still that you can't understand her and she can't understand you until you both are old enough to comprehend. Marriage is the greatest thing on earth, and the worst.

"I'm in favor of abolishing divorce courts and putting in their stead strict marriage regulations. Folks are always complaining about our divorce laws and the shame of it all, but they overlook the real trouble. It's not the divorce courts. It's the marriages.

"I married when I was 19 and he was 27. We were mismated, which was quite natural, and the result was a separation that eventually led to divorce. Mr. Pidcock is an excellent man, a good man, but I was too young and couldn't comprehend the course I was taking.

"I like Mr. Glenn, and I'm going to do all I can to help him. He has been wronged and done an injustice. He doesn't deserve all this, and I'm going to prove he doesn't. If his case lay in my hands, he would be a free man tonight—this very minute."

At this point of his daughter's conversation, the father, Samuel D. Reed, a 50-year-old business man of Boston, Ga., who had been lying across the bed, recuperating from the tiresome journey from Houston, said:

Glenn a Bad Egg, Says Reed.

"Not if I had anything to do with it would he be free. He deserves prosecution, and that's what he's going to get. He's a bad egg, that fellow is."

"I don't agree with you, father," smiled the little woman, "he's not so bad as people think, and he'll prove it."

In a previous interview with Glenn in his cell at police headquarters, the reporter had obtained the announcement that the prisoner would marry Mrs. Pidcock when he was freed by the courts. She was asked if this were true. Her reply was:

"I'm not committing myself. That's an unfair question. We were talking about other matrimonial things, you know."

The reporter asked if she would return to Moultrie, to Boston, to Houston or remain in Atlanta.

"I don't know what I'll do," she answered. "I'm not going back to Moultrie or Boston, and I don't think I'll stay in Atlanta. I can't bear the shame of it all. I've got no plans. Sometimes, I think I won't need any. I feel so disconsolate and melancholy. It's affected me so that I haven't even reached a decision in the adoption of my name. I'm divorced, now, and haven't considered whether or not I'll retain the name of Pidcock or restore my maiden name."

Her signature upon the hotel register is "Mrs. Ione Pidcock, Houston, Texas." Her father declared she would live with him, and that it didn't matter so much what was her name, just so she was the same "dear little daughter" she had always been to him.

Resuming her conversation on marital conditions, the former wife of the millionaire railway president said:

Unwritten Law Needs Repealing.

"And, you can count on it that this 'Unwritten Law' defense, which usually is so successful with the present day courts, isn't what it's cracked up to be. It gives the men too good a chance to wreak vengeance upon enemies and then sneak out of their just desserts.

"They free too many man-killers nowadays. You can take it for granted that the man who kills and then pleads the unwritten law was not attending to his own interests when the deed was committed that caused him to shoot. If he had been the right kind of husband, and had looked after his own affairs with the same spirit with which he slew when they were trespassed upon, he wouldn't have done any shooting."

It was an affecting scene when the kind and aged father told the re-

ATLANTA RAISES $75,900 AND SHRINERS GATHERING IN 1914 IS NOW ASSURED

LEVEES BREAKING AND GREAT FLOOD ROLLS UNCHECKED

OVER 600,000 ACRES WATERS ARE ROLLING

Many Counties in Arkansas Flooded and the Worst Is to Come—No Trains Being Run Out of Little Rock.

Memphis, Tenn., April 9.—After a day of torrential rains and a stiff wind one levee gave way before the flood waters of the Mississippi early tonight, and at half a dozen other points a desperate fight is being waged to hold the turbulent waterway within bounds, with the odds against the flood fighters. Admittedly, the levees are weakening, the water, already at an unprecedented height, is pounding against the dikes with increasing force and whether the embankments can longer withstand the pressure is problematical.

The levee near Wilson, Ark., went out late this evening, said to be due to the desertion of about 150 negro laborers this morning. With a roar that could be heard for a mile or more, about 100 feet of the earthen revetment collapsed into the stream, and it was by a narrow margin that the workers along the levee, who kept up the fight to the last minute, reached a place of safety. The gap widened rapidly, and as the water came through with a mighty current frail negro cabins were tossed about as so many playthings, trees were swept down and carried away, but so far as can be ascertained all of the inhabitants in the immediate proximity of the break reached places of safety.

At a late hour tonight the gap was about 300 feet in width and widening rapidly.

600,000 Acres Flooded.

As a result of the break parts of Mississippi, Poinsett, Cross and Crittenden counties will be flooded, and, with the water coming through the crevasse at Graves Bayou, about 40 per cent or 600,000 acres of the St. Francis basin will be flooded. The greater part of this area is timber land and Wilson, a settlement of about 250 lumber workers, and their families, is the most important town that will be swept by the first rush of the water. "Backwater" may reach within two miles of Osceola on the north, and Marion on the south.

Other points considered in the greatest danger tonight are Mound City and Osceola, Ark. At both points the crest of the levee is a foot or more above the water, but the river is being beaten into high waves and sweeping over the rainsoaked embankments.

Unprecedented rainfall was reported from throughout the central Mississippi valley and along streams tributary to the Mississippi river. At Little Rock, Ark., the precipitation for eighteen hours ended at 3 p. m. today was 9.36 inches. The Arkansas river is at flood stage and Fourche Bayou, a sluggish creek south of Little Rock, is a raging torrent. The homes of a score of negroes are under water. The main pipe line which conveys natural gas from the Caddo, La., field, to Little Rock, has burst and a majority of Little Rock homes are without light or fuel.

No Trains Out of Little Rock.

No trains have been run out of Little Rock since morning, and it was stated tonight it may be several days before service is resumed.

At Hot Springs and other towns the damage was confined to the flooding of cellars and the washing out of country roads.

The gas supply of Memphis was cut off today when the levee about the gas plant in the flooded section of a northern suburb collapsed. Other than this the situation in this city is practically unchanged. With the exception of the St. Louis and San Francisco lines, all of the railroad operation west of Memphis went out of commission today, because of washouts in the roadbed.

Trains of the Iron Mountain line were detoured over the St. Louis and San Francisco tracks tonight and other roads will probably make similar arrangements.

Several hundred refugees were brought tonight to the Memphis refugee camp, where about 1,200 persons are now being cared for.

R. E. Lee Wilson, owner of the lumber mill at the town named for him, narrowly escaped being swept away when the levee broke. He was in personal command of a crew of levee workers and was caught below the break. He confiscated a horse from a nearby pasture and rode around the water, reaching the town almost as soon as the workers driven from the embankment reached there.

She Enters Convent to Atone.

Chicago, April 9.—Mary Webb, 19 years old, sister of Robert Webb, the most daring of the automobile bandits of last winter, will enter a convent as atonement for her brother's crimes. Webb has pleaded self-defense to holdups, but pleaded self-defense to the charges of murdering Detective Peter Hart.

In a Single Day's Campaign Committees Secure $15,900 More Than the Sum Asked For—This Total May Be Boosted Today.

FUND TO SOON REACH $100,000 TOTAL, SAYS LEADER OF CANVASS

Subscriptions of $1,000 and Over Were the Order of the Day When the Final Meeting Was Held at the Piedmont Hotel Last Night.

In her one day's campaign for a $60,000 entertainment fund to bring the Shriners' convention here in 1914, Atlanta overshot her mark by $15,900, raising a total of $75,900.

This figure is expected to be boosted substantially today, when subscription blanks mailed to Atlanta Shriners Wednesday are returned.

Forrest Adair, potentate of Yaarab Temple, predicts that the fund will run over $100,000 before the Atlanta invitation is extended to the Shriners.

The presence of the Shriners in Atlanta in 1914 is a foregone conclusion.

The Shriners' campaign for $60,000 in twelve hours was the most spectacular exhibition of Atlanta's spirit in history. On Tuesday Atlanta took a notion she wanted the Shriners' convention. It took $60,000 cash to turn the trick. She was unprepared for the campaign to get the money. Forrest Adair and Colonel Fred J. Paxon, chairman of the campaign executive committee, put a bunch of hustlers on the streets Wednesday morning at the opening of business. Wednesday at the close of business the money—and more than enough—was on hand!

REPORTS SHOW THAT $75,900 HAS ALREADY BEEN RAISED

Long before Wednesday's campaign was over, Forrest Adair said, "We've got it," but the "real goods" was produced when the canvassing committees closed their day's work Wednesday night with an informal dinner at the Piedmont hotel and made their reports.

When Colonel Paxon, presiding over the table, arose and called for committee reports, $1,000, $2,000, $3,000 and $5,000 subscriptions began popping like a string of firecrackers on Fourth of July. In three minutes the subscriptions passed the $60,000 mark. When all the committees present had reported the subscriptions showed a total of $75,900.

That was the happiest hundred men that sat down to dinner Wednesday night that has been seen in these parts in many a long day. Forrest Adair and Colonel Paxon were showered with congratulations and slapped on the back and pump-handled with such a heartiness that even these old-timers in the achievement of things were embarrassed.

NEWSPAPERS OF THE CITY ARE THANKED BY SHRINERS

A resolution was introduced by Robert F. Maddox and unanimously passed thanking the newspapers of Atlanta for the publicity they have lent the canvass for the entertainment fund. In his remarks he laid emphasis upon the loyalty with which the papers of the city stand together on any matter for the common good of Atlanta, no matter what rivalry or political differences may exist between them.

J. P. Allen introduced a similar resolution thanking the public. "This is a supreme example," said he, "of the progressive spirit of this city. All our citizens need to know is that the particular object in view is of benefit to the city, and as if by magic it is accomplished. The people of Atlanta stand together for their city as the people of no other city in the world. To them we are profoundly thankful." This was passed.

GREATEST DAY IN HISTORY OF ATLANTA, SAYS MADDOX

The meeting concluded with several talks and another resolution by Robert F. Maddox.

Mr. Maddox declared that there was no Shriner who took part in the canvass who was not glad of the opportunity he had to participate in such a big thing for the city. "In my opinion," he said, "this is the greatest day in the history of Atlanta."

Mr. Maddox declared that no small part of the credit for the day's success was due to the efficiency of "the splendid generals" who had directed the movement. He offered a resolution that "the rank and file" of the workers in the campaign, both Shriners and non-Shriners, express to Colonel F. J. Paxon, as chairman of the executive committee, and Forrest Adair, potentate of Yaarab temple, their sincere appreciation of the admirable way in which those two gentlemen had directed the work. The resolution was adopted unanimously with enthusiastic applause.

Mr. Adair expressed the faith that is within him thusly:

"I do not believe that there is any other town in the union that could have pulled off this thing in twelve hours as we have, nor would Atlanta have done it for any other organization than the Shriners. I know that at Dallas the imperial council will decide to come here even if New York, Chicago and all the balance of them put in invitations. We are going to spend all this money on our visiting Shriners next year and give them the biggest time they ever had."

ALL OTHER CITIES BACKED OFF MAP, ASSERTS PAXON

Colonel Paxon was just as sure of the ground on which Atlanta stands as was Mr. Adair. He said that with this fund and this enthusiasm Atlanta has Memphis, Cincinnati and all other comers backed off the boards.

The beauty of it all is, he declared, that every cent of this fund is guaranteed in black and white. The personal signature of every subscriber is opposite his subscription, and each one of these signatures is as good as gold.

"This day's work is highly typical of the far-famed Atlanta spirit," he said, "and when the news of it goes abroad in the land there are going to be some neighbors opening their eyes." He pointed out that the controlling motive that actuated all who had taken part in the work was one of complete unselfishness—a desire to pull together for the uplift and growth of Atlanta.

COMPETITION OF COMMITTEES IN THE CAMPAIGN STRONG

The excitement in Wednesday's campaign was tense and competition between committees was strong. All day long reports came to Mr. Adair and Colonel Paxon, "I've already got more money than was assigned to me and I am still getting it."

Everybody in Atlanta, it seems, loves a Shriner. Poor man, rich man, beggar man, thief, merchant, lawyer, Indian chief, everybody fell over themselves to turn their pockets wrong side out when the canvassers told them what they wanted with the money.

The Shriners who come from the four quarters of the earth to Atlanta next year will not be strangers within her gates. They will be her honored guests and her boon companions. Atlanta will hang the latchstring of every door in the city on the outside, and kill the fatted calf. Southern hospitality will bloom forth in such splendor as has not been seen since the Cavaliers first planted the seed in southern soil.

SHRINERS' CONVENTION WILL BRING THOUSANDS TO CITY

The Shriners' convention will be one of the largest gatherings ever held in the city of Atlanta and withal, it will be one of the most pleasant and most spectacular.

There is no more substantial a man in the world than the average Shriner, and neither is there a better goodfellow. The Shriner is also a spender, and it is predicted that the business men who contributed to the entertainment fund will find their donations a splendid investment.

There will be no less than 25,000 Shriners here at the convention.

By request of a large number of the subscribers to the entertainment fund, no names will be used in the publication of the subscriptions. Here are the subscriptions according to the committees which raised them:

THICK RED RASH ON HEAD AND CHEST

And Arms. Itched so Scratched Skin Off. Pitiful to See. Mass of Sores. Had to Handle Him on a Pillow. Used Cuticura Soap and Ointment. Well in a Week.

1606 Isabella Ave., Knoxville, Tenn.—"Last summer when my baby was only a few weeks old his head, chest and arms broke out with what appeared at first to be prickly heat, a very fine thick red rash. In a few days a brown scale formed over the affected surface, and just after this small boils appeared on his head. His head was hot and itched so intensely that he would scratch the skin off wherever he could get his hands. He scratched the blood out of his face, his eyes began to get sore, and he was pitiful to see. His head, chest, and arms were a mass of sores. I had to handle him on a pillow, and then he was in so much pain he could hardly sleep and was so fretful it took nearly all my time to care for him.

"I tried several remedies which all seemed to make him worse. He had been in this condition about three weeks when I received a free sample of Cuticura Soap and Ointment. I began their use at once and the first application cleaned his head perfectly and he began to improve from that very hour. I got some more and in a week he was well and not a scar left on him." (Signed) Mrs. L. T. Sexton, Mar. 31, 1912.

MACON DRUGGIST COMMITS SUICIDE

"I'm Going to My Room and Take a Good, Long Sleep," David L. Brown Told the Hotel Clerk.

David L. Brown, aged 60 years, a prominent druggist of Macon and proprietor of two stores in that city, came into the lobby of the Dakota hotel yesterday afternoon about 4 o'clock and walked up to the head clerk's desk. He had been stopping at the Dakota for five days, which he had been spending in Atlanta on a business trip.

"Brown," he said to J. B. Brown, chief day clerk. "Let me have my key. I'm going to the room and take a good, long sleep. You needn't call me."

He was smiling and evidently in buoyant spirits. Brown proffered the key and watched the aged guest as he walked into the elevator. Thirty minutes later, a telegram came for the Macon druggist. The clerk went upstairs to deliver the message.

When he stepped across the threshold of room 307, the one occupied by the druggist, the clerk discovered the man lying on the bed, doubled up, as though in pain. A bottle of carbolic acid, the contents drained, lay nearby upon the floor. He was unconscious.

Dr. J. B. Liebman, the house physician, was called in. Death had resulted before his arrival. No farewell note could be found anywhere among the dead man's effects or in the room.

The Dakota management notified Mr. Brown's family in Macon, and a son is expected in the city today. Meanwhile, the body will remain at the undertakers'.

Examination of the dead man's personal papers showed that he suffered no financial or business reverses. Business letters proved that his affairs were successful, and a bank book of a Macon institution displayed $2,000 had been deposited to his credit on April 1 of this year.

The coroner's jury, which held an inquest at 7:30 o'clock last night, returned a verdict of suicide by carbolic acid. No motive was revealed. The body is being held, pending the arrival of members of the dead man's family.

GRIFFIN GHOULS CAUGHT

Thirteen Negro Boys Thrashed for Opening Graves.

Griffin, Ga., April 9.—(Special.)—Between midnight and 3 o'clock this morning Sheriff Hutson and Chief of Police Phelps, assisted by deputies, rounded up the parties guilty of breaking into graves of the Anderson children in the local cemetery last week. Thirteen arrests were made. The prisoners are Winston Sims, Mose Robertson, Charlie Lamar, James Lamar, John Harris, Sam Smith, Luther Starks, Henry George Baker, Walter Redding and four others whose names have not been divulged.

As all the boys are too young to be held amenable to the law, Justice of the Peace Mills "sentenced" each culprit to a sound thrashing. Sentences were administered to the satisfaction of the community, which has been outraged by the affair.

SPRATLING AGAIN HEADS OPTICIANS OF GEORGIA

Athens, Ga., April 9.—(Special.)—J. M. Spratling, of Macon, today was reelected president of the Georgia Optical association which concluded its annual convention here tonight. Other officers chosen were, C. E. Folsom, Atlanta, vice president, and W. R. Wilson, Dallas, secretary-treasurer.

This morning a drive over the city was tendered the visitors and later a luncheon at the State College of Agriculture. It is planned to have an appeal made to the legislature for laws protecting the public against the incompetent advisers and treaters of eyes.

ELEVENTH DISTRICT COUNT 32 TALLIES

Douglas, Ga., April 9.—(Special.)—The Eleventh District A. & M. school defeated Sparks' Collegiate institute at Sparks by the overwhelming score of 32 to 2. Terrible swatting of the ball, coupled with daring base running, tells the story. Douglas hit safely nineteen times, nine of the hits being for extra bases. Branch held his opponents without a score until the ninth inning. He struck out twenty men. This is the third game of the Douglas boys, and they have made a total of 51 runs, 34 hits and 6 errors, while their opponents have made 11 hits, 4 runs, 17 errors.

L. F. REHENTHAL HEADS WOODMEN OF GEORGIA

Fifty Candidates Initiated at the Opera House After Torchlight Procession.

Thomasville, Ga., April 9.—(Special.) L. F. Rehenthal, of Columbus, was elected head consul of the head camp, Woodmen of the World, at the state convention here today.

Other officers elected for a term of two years are: Head adviser, J. W. Simmons, of Brunswick; head banker, J. T. Johnson, Eastman; head clerk, E. M. Bass, Carrollton; assistant head clerk, J. H. Balcomb, Jeffersonville; head escort, G. R. Williams, Macon; head watchman, E. H. F. Ruland, Augusta; head sentry, J. F. Lunsford, Elberton; head board managers, J. L. Ruff, Macon; H. H. Wilcox, Hartwell; H. B. Allen, Americus, M. M. Puckett, Dalton, C. R. Wind, Lizella; delegates-at-large, L. C. Hoyle, Dawson, W. R. Hewlett, Savannah.

That the delegates to the convention of Woodmen of the World are enjoying themselves during their sojourn in the piney woods and wiregrass section of Georgia seems evident and as it is the first visit of many of them to this part of the state the convention holds added interest on that account.

The program for today has been one of much interest, comprising as it did, both the election of officers for head camp for the ensuing two years and the competitive drill between the various degree teams.

The announcement of Head Consul Marlin that he would under no consideration be a candidate for re-election, brought out quite a number of candidates for the position and there has been some lively work and a great deal of political wire-pulling.

The ladies of the Woodmen's Circle were complimented with a reception yesterday afternoon given at the Young Men's Christian association building by the local members of the Eastern Star and the Rebeccas. There are a number of visiting members of the circle in attendance upon the convention and the reception was largely attended.

A feature enjoyed by the public generally was the big torchlight procession participated in by all of the visitors and local Woodmen. According to the order of the city council, all of the street lights were turned out just at 7 o'clock and headed by the Dawson band and the Thomasville band, what looked almost like a small army carrying brilliant vari-colored torches, marched through the principal streets of the city. At the close of this part of the program the Woodmen repaired to the opera house, where the initiation of fifty or more candidates is taking place, this being said to be the largest number that has ever been initiated at one time.

BACON IS AFFECTED BY NEW AMENDMENT

Washington, April 9.—Ratification of the constitutional amendment providing for direct election of United States senators will have its first effect upon the senatorial situation in Georgia, it was said here today.

Senator Bacon was renominated at a direct primary last year and would have been re-elected by the state legislature in June. The change in the constitution will force the calling of a general election when the legislature assembles and Senator Bacon's name will be submitted to the people for direct approval.

The Georgia situation is unique, because of the summer session of the legislature. Although nominated at a popular primary last year, Senator Bacon now is serving under an appointment by the governor, his term having expired March 4. As the new amendment takes away from the legislature the power to elect a senator, it may direct the governor to again make an appointment until a special election can be held.

MISS MARY BOWEN SUES FOR DAMAGES

Attractive Young Girl Says She Was Injured Through Negligence of Street Car Company.

Miss Mary Bowen, one of the most attractive members of Atlanta's society, filed a $5,000 damage suit yesterday in superior court against the Georgia Railway and Power company for damages resulting from an accident last fall, when she was alighting from a street car. Her father, J. A. Bowen, a prominent insurance man also brought suit for $2,000, alleging as basis for recovery that his daughter has been prevented by the accident from performing domestic service of value to his household, and also that he had been forced to spend $100 doctor's bills.

Miss Bowen, who gives her age as 16 years, lives at 795 Peachtree street. She claims that she was in the act of alighting from a street car at Peachtree and Tenth streets on the afternoon of September 11, 1912, and that the car was started while she was on the steps. This she claims threw her heavily to the ground and sprained and contused her left ankle, rendering it permanently weak and deformed.

After the accident, Miss Bowen was unable to walk for some months, and afterwards had to use crutches for a longer time, she says. She declares that she has suffered and is still suffering severe pain from the injured ankle, and that they are permanent and have greatly impaired the use of her foot and ankle.

She declares that at the time of the accident she was strong and healthy and was attending school, but that now her ability to perform such service, domestic or otherwise, as she may be called upon for, is permanently impaired.

Her suit for damages is filed through her father as next friend. Both the suits were brought into court by Attorney James L. Key.

SMOOTHING ROAD FOR THE PASSAGE OF THE TARIFF BILL

President Wilson Goes to the Capitol and Holds a Long Conference With the Democratic Senators.

WILSON SEEMS CERTAIN HARMONY WILL PREVAIL

After Conference President Says There's Nothing to Prevent Harmonious Support of the Party Platform as to the Tariff.

Washington, April 9.—In the interest of success for the democratic tariff revision bill, President Wilson today stepped over another obstacle in the way of perfect harmony between the white house and the directing forces of congress.

For the second successive day he left his offices in the white house and journeyed to the capitol, this time for an hour and a half conference with democratic members of the senate finance committee.

At its conclusion the president stated frankly to newspaper men that he and members of the senate were agreed that nothing stood in the way of harmonious support of the "party platform" as to tariff revision.

Senate Situation Canvassed.

The senate situation was canvassed in detail in the conference. The dangers that might threaten a single bill should the opponents of free sugar and free wool combine in sufficient strength to endanger the democratic majority in the senate were discussed, but no agreement was reached that binds the senate leaders to any definite line of action.

While the senate conference was in progress, the full democratic membership of the house was in caucus at the other end of the capitol, discussing the details of the tariff bill, the first schedule of which was agreed to without change. Representative Underwood, the democratic leader, stated at the conclusion of the day's caucus, that the tariff revision would go through the house as a single bill.

The president again ignored long-standing precedent in seeking a legislative conference within the capitol. He met the senators in the president's room, near the senate chamber, where presidents have long come to sign the last bills of a dying congress but which had never before been used for such a purpose as today's within the knowledge of senate historians.

Wilson Tells of Conference.

At the end of the conference the president, with democratic simplicity, stepped into the senate corridor to tell newspaper men the results of the meeting. Members of the senate finance committee had agreed that the president should be the only spokesman for the conference.

"I hope the senators and representatives will permit me to come here frequently and confer with them in a way to save their time and mine," he said. "At our conference this afternoon we were, of course, discussing the tariff. The net result is we don't see any difficulty about standing together on any sort of party program."

The president was asked if the conference had decided whether the tariff would be revised in a single bill or schedule by schedule.

"That's a matter for the other end of the capitol," he answered, pointing toward the house side.

"But they will be guided by your advice, will they not?" he was asked by the newspaper men.

"I haven't asked them," rejoined the president with a smile.

Danger Ahead of Bill.

The president had been informed by the senators fully of the difficulties ahead of the tariff bill if it came to the senate as a single measure. Further investigation is to be made, to determine the strength that could be mustered by opponents of free sugar and free wool. As a result of today's conference, which is to be resumed later, it is believed the president will not object if senate leaders determine it is essential that the tariff be split up into a number of measures.

President Wilson's decision to visit the capitol was communicated to Senator Simmons and to the sergeant-at-arms of the senate early in the day.

Senator Simmons was notified that the president would be in his room at the capitol at 3 o'clock, and would like to resume there the conference with finance committee members, which began Monday morning at the white house. Extreme simplicity surrounded the president's arrival and departure from the capitol. The senate was deserted and but few people witnessed the coming and going of the executive or realized the importance of the precedent he had established in visiting the capitol for legislative conferences.

House Democrats Caucus.

Discussion of the tariff in the house democratic caucus may continue through the rest of the week. The chemical schedule was completed today without the change of a letter, though numerous amendments were offered; and the consideration of schedule "B" (earthenware and glassware) was begun. Tomorrow the house, meeting at noon, will adjourn in time to permit the caucus to resume by 2 o'clock.

The bowling over of all amendments to the chemical schedule, the counsel of Mr. Underwood and other leaders for party harmony with a view to a united front on a single tariff revision bill and the naming of working committees, ways and means, rules, accounts, mileage and enrolled bills, featured today's session.

Representative Broussard, of Louisiana, announced he was prepared to present at the right time a plea for adequate protection of sugar.

Representative Metze, of New York, urged that the ten per cent duty on indigo be stricken out for the benefit of the textile industry whose manufactures were affected by heavy cuts in textile revision. This was beaten 54 to 102.

Representative Webb, of North Carolina, advocated free caster oil as the poor man's greatest medicine.

Representative Fowler, of Illinois, wanted linseed oil free, and Representative Bartlett, of Georgia, wanted free phosphoric acid in the interest of cheaper fertilizers.

Representative L'Engle, of Florida, suggested and announced he would repeat the suggestion with every schedule that there should be an internal revenue tax equal to the amount of the duty assessed against factories of all kinds that employ foreign labor, children under 16 years of age, women or that failed to pay a living wage to employees. This was passed over..

Set Them by the Ears.

Although it had been unofficially announced before President Wilson took office that he expected to go to the president's room at the capitol at frequent intervals to be in close touch with congress, the news that he would make the first visit today following so closely upon the notable scene of yesterday, when the president read his message personally to a joint assembly in the hall of the house, set official circles by the ears.

The president is said to feel that more progress can be made by a visit to the capitol ,where he can confer with the democratic members of the senate finance committee and the latter can quickly get in touch with senators reluctant to favor the bill at present. Mr. Wilson firmly believes in intimate debate in matters of legislation, not only as a time-saver, but as a means of averting misunderstandings that might come by having the administration's views transmitted indirectly.

The president's conception of that method of securing legislation is that as a leader of the party that elected him, he can be a counsellor and adviser. While he never has suggested that the executive in either the state or the nation should actually interfere in the processes of legislation, he always has maintained that the voice of the party leader should be heard in party councils.

Intimations have come to the white house that the president, if defeated in the present session in the issue of tariff reform, will go before the people of those states whose representatives in both houses of congress have thwarted the party program and appeal in the primaries for the selection of what he believes to be progressive candidates.

Hoke Smith Talks of Wilson's Visit.

President Wilson's visit to the capitol was explained by members of the finance committee to be a continuation of the conference begun Monday at the white house. Members of the committee desired a further opportunity to present their views of changes needed in the tariff bill.

"The democrats of the finance committee asked for a conference with the president, and we met him at the white house Monday morning," said Senator Hoke Smith. "That conference adjourned to meet again. Now the president renews the conference, and instead of requiring the democrats of the finance committee to come to him, he has come to them."

Other members commended the action of the president in arranging to meet the finance committee at a point more convenient to senators

BASS IS KILLED BY ALVA F. SHORT

Son of Worth County Tax Collector Shot Dead at Sylvester—Slayer Held by the Sheriff.

Sylvester, Ga., April 9.—(Special.)—Sylvester was the scene of a deplorable tragedy today when Alva F. Short shot and killed Douglas Bass. Both parties are prominent. Young Bass was only 25 years old, and the son of M. J. Bass, county tax collector.

The killing occurred shortly after 5 o'clock this afternoon in the rear of the Sylveter warehouse, which was only about 100 feet from the postoffice and the principal business street. Short fired five shots, three or four taking effect. Bass did not use his pistol, though it was clenched in his hand when assistance reached the dying boy, who expired a few minutes after being shot.

Short moved here from Houston county several years ago and is about 30 years of age and married. He served as a rural mail carrier for two or three years, but has been farming extensively for the past three or four years. Short surrendered without resistance when approached by Chief of Police M. E. Crow, who took him in charge and later turned him over to Sheriff L. A. Potts.

The prisoner has not yet made a statement.

SUNDAY SCHOOL HOLDS AN EVENING "AT HOME"

"At home to our friends and those who want friends," is the invitation that has been sent out by the Central Presbyterian Sunday school for Friday evening of this week.

This is the first of a series of Friday evening "at homes" which the school has inaugurated, the young people of the senior department and the organized classes having arranged the event. There will be no admission fee or offering. The movement is in line with the policy of the church to put its church building and plant to such use as will serve its members and the community best.

A special invitation has been extended to any young people of the city who have not yet found a church home. The program will start at 8 o'clock.

GOSSIP AT CAPITOL

Delegates to Conference Appointed.

Governor Brown appointed yesterday the following delegates to represent Georgia at the southern conference on women and child labor to be held at Meridian, Miss., on April 28 and 29:

H. B. King, of Augusta; J. D. Massey, of Columbus; F. J. Paxon, of Atlanta; A. H. Hodgson, of Athens; H. P. Meikleham, of Lindale.

Many Official Reports Received.

A large number of reports from county officials have been received by Comptroller Wright within the past few days and more are expected to follow today. The county officials are making reports of fees received and are acting under the new law that was passed by the legislature last summer. Many of the officials report nothing received as their fees do not come in until in the fall. Some of the officials not only report no fees received, but state that they are behind as they have had to pay out money. The law was adopted in order for the legislature to get data as to what officials were being paid in the way of fees, but so far nothing definite has been obtained and will not be until the fall reports are filed.

Money on Hand to Pay Pensions.

State Treasurer W. J. Speer will begin mailing out checks to the old veterans this week as he has now sufficient funds with which to pay the pensions remaining unpaid this year. The appropriation for pensions amounts to $1,180,000. The majority of the pensions were paid earlier in the year and the receipt from Fulton county of $38,371.50, from special taxes collected in January, February and March, has made is possible for the remaining pensions to be paid at once.

Switching Charges Investigated.

The state railroad commission held a hearing Wednesday morning in regard to the switching charges for the handling of cars to and from the granite quarries in the vicinity of Stone Mountain and Lithonia. The hearing was on an appeal by the Atlanta Stone Mountain and Lithonia railroad from the ruling of the commission growing out of a complaint made by the Brand-Newmeyer Granite company. It was alleged by the company that the Georgia railroad charged it $2 when it charged other quarries only 75 cents per car. The commission held that the charges were a discrimination. This was appealed from, the Atlanta, Stone Mountain and Lithonia railroad and the Georgia railroad declaring that they owned and operated their own quarries and that was the reason why they were charged only 75 cents a car.

The evidence was so conflicting that the commission decided to make a personal inspection before reaching a decision.

DOUBTING FUTURE, U. S. CLERK GODWIN COMMITS SUICIDE

Savannah, Ga., April 9.—(Special.)—Walter H. Godwin, deputy clerk of the United States court, who killed himself with a revolver in the office of the clerk last night, will be buried in Valdosta. He left a note to J. Ben Wilson, deputy United States marshal, his personal friend, in which he said:

"If your philosophy of life is correct, we may not meet again, but I sincerely hope that the evening of your life will be pleasant and comforting With wishes, etc., WALTER."

Godwin was to have been superseded as deputy clerk on Monday, April 15. It is said, unofficially, that his resignation was forced by the discovery of alleged attentions to a married woman in Augusta.

The body was discovered by Deputy Marshal J. Ben Wilson and Godwin's son, who went to the office at the request of Mrs. Godwin, who had grown uneasy at her husband's absence.

Besides his wife, Godwin leaves three children, two boys and a girl. He came to Savannah from Augusta about a year ago to relieve Deputy Clerk Gillespie, whose health had failed.

CHANCE OFFERED HERE TO PLAY WITH CARUSO

A chance to appear in opera with Caruso, one of the few opportunties to strut the boards as a knight or yeoman, a court lady or kitchen maid, is extended young men and women of Atlanta by the Atlanta Musical association, who need 350 "supers" for the Metropolitan Opera company season April 21 to 25.

There is no inducement beside the glory and the chance to hear the world's greatest singers without cost, and what is more than either, to get a glimpse of grand opera behind stage, which is rarely given to those outside the charmed circle.

Leonidas Summerall is in charge of the assembly of the "background" of the artists. Applications should be made to him by mail care general delivery, inclosing two self-addressed and stamped envelopes. All applications will be answered.

The applicant should also give his height, weight and general make-up. More men are needed than women, but there are plenty of those anxious to apear in the ensemble, so applicants are urged to send in their names immediately.

BRIDGES SEEKS NEWS OF HIS RUNAWAY WIFE

Moultrie, Ga., April 9.—(Special.)—W. A. Bridges wants information of the whereabouts of his wife, who took French leave last Thursday. Since that time the husband has searched in vain for her. When Bridges and a boarder came in for their lunch Thursday, there was none prepared, and Mrs. Bridges was missing. They inquired in the community and no one had seen her.

At the close of the day when she had still failed to return the police were notified and investigation was made and it was learned she had left on a Georgia Northern train, after buying a ticket to Albany. The following day a note was found in the home which said in substance that she was tired of living in the sort of community they were living in, and that she would henceforth look out for herself. Mrs. Bridges is described as being an amiable little woman who seemed devoted to her husband and home.

FAULTY PEACHTREE PAVEMENT BLAMED

R. J. Williams Says One Rib Is Fractured and His Shoulder Dislocated.

Laying the blame of a smashed-up buggy, runaway horse and consequent injuries to himself to the faulty pavement on Peachtree street, R. J Williams, aged 35, a livery stable man, has filed, through his attorney, Madison Bell, a claim with city council for $2,500 damages

According to Williams, he was driving along Peachtree street, near Alexander street, on March 27, and while he was threading his way through the crowded traffic his buggy wheel bumped into a large hole in the wornout pavement The force was such as to break the axle, and from this the animal he was driving became thoroughly frightened and bolted.

The horse raced toward town for two blocks without his being able to regain control of him and at Forrest avenue horse and buggy collided with a passing street car, says Williams.

By the impact of this he says he was hurled from the vehicle, and sustained permanent injuries. He was picked up unconscious and taken to a hospital, where he states it was found that one of his ribs was fractured and his shoulder was dislocated, and he was permanently injured.

Williams lays the entire blame for the affair on the condition of the pavement on the thoroughfare, and through his attorney declared Wednesday night that unless the claims committee of council, to which the petition will be referred, should see fit to recompense him to his satisfaction for his injuries, that he will file suit against the city in the courts and attempt to recover in this manner.

The accident to Williams occurred at about the same time and within a few blocks of where a fine horse belonging to a local concern caught his hoof in a similar hole in the pavement, and was so injured that he had to be shot. In the latter case the animal's hoof was torn loose from his foot from catching in a hole in the pavement that had lain unrepaired.

COBB COUNTY SHERIFF PASSES AWAY SUDDENLY

Marietta, Ga., April 9.—(Special.)—Sheriff R. S. Lindley, of Cobb county, died at his home here at 1 o'clock this morning of peritonitis, after an illness of two days. Mr. Lindley took office January 1, 1913, and has made a most excellent record in that important place. He served as deputy sheriff the two preceding years under J. H. Kincaid.

The deceased leaves a wife and six children. His mother, now 79 years old, also survives him, he being her only child. The funeral will be conducted at 11 a. m. Thursday at the late residence. The burial will be at Midway, 8 miles west of Marietta, in the Presbyterian church yard.

Mr. Lindale was a very popular official, and his death is greatly deplored.

Ordinary Gann appointed Wednesday morning Deputy Sheriff W. E. Swanson as sheriff till an election is held to fill the vacancy.

Organizer of Drama League Reaches Atlanta Next Week

A branch of the Drama League of America will be organized in Atlanta the first of next week, when Mrs. A. Starr Best, of Evanston, Ill., chairman of the league's organization committee, reaches the city.

A New York center of the league was organized in New York the first of this month. The league now has centers in twenty cities. Its aim is to further study the drama and to encourage attendance at plays of value.

Mrs. Best attended the organization in New York, and will come to Atlanta in a few days, where she will meet Miss Carolyn Cobb. of Athens, Ga., the state organizer of the league for Georgia. A public meeting will be arranged, at which Mrs. Best will set forth the various aims and purposes of the Dramatic league.

To Atlantans the civic theater feature will be of special interest just at this time when wholesome entertainment and recreation for the people is receiving earnest attention.

Miss Cobb states that she hopes to interest the civil authorities in the civic theater feature of the work, as well as those organizations which stand for civic betterment.

"To students and lovers of the drama," states Miss Cobb, "the insurance by the league of the presentation at the local theaters of plays of real value will appeal in the strongest manner. All who are interested in this great movement, from whatever angle, should co-operate in the organization and development of the work in Atlanta and in Georgia."

The state leadership is well placed with Miss Cobb, who is a graduate of the Emmerson School of Oratory in Boston, and a deep student of the drama.

Announcement will be made later of the time and place of Mrs. Best's address.

NO DATE FIXED YET FOR WATSON TRIAL

Augusta, Ga., April 9.—(Special.)—In open court this morning a certificate of disqualification was signed in the case of the United States v. Thomas E. Watson for sending obscene matter through the mails.

This certificate is following an order by Judge Speer, declaring himself disqualified in the case, because he felt he could not give an impartial hearing.

No future date was fixed for hearing the case.

One Hundred Remarkable Suits

At $25.00

Here now, we shall show just what can be done in the matter of Suits at $25.00!

Were we entering a $25.00 Suit contest—and it really amounts to that every business day here—we doubt if we could select one hundred suits that we would be more willing to pin our faith and our chances on!

They are marvels at this price, but then not a word about their actual worth—we will leave that for you to decide. You will know that no such suits have been seen in Atlanta at $25.00.

Every suit is a lately created model.

The Bulgarians and their kin are in prominence.

So are the Cutaways.

So are Novelties that rightly should not be termed either Blouses or Cutaways.

And there are many plain Tailored Suits.

Materials—Eponge in shades of blue and tan; Bedford Cords in light spring colors; black and white striped Worsteds and—splendid to relate—black and white Shepherd checks and plain fine Serges.

No need now to delay suit-buying!

A STUDY IN TEMPERAMENTS.

President Wilson "startled the natives" again yesterday afternoon by going into conference with a subcommittee of the senate finance committee, and—holy horrors!—in the capitol itself, and before even the tariff bill got out of the house and into the senate! And this immediately following the personal delivery of his message to congress and his taking personal charge of the tariff bill with the statement that he was ready to "assume full responsibility."

All of which gives opportunity for what may be called a unique study in temperaments, or political psychology, if you please.

The Constitution finds nothing to criticise in this lusty independence of precedents. On the other hand, we are inclined to think with Mr. Wilson that it makes for quicker results and for greater direction in government so long as it is not abused. The world wags on and nothing is the worse. Only a few political old maids are exercised about it.

But—and you can write the word with a capital "B"—

Suppose the redoubtable Theodore Roosevelt had pursued this same course!

Many of the politicians and newspapers that view Mr. Wilson's attitude not only with indifference, but with positive equanimity, would ring with protests against the wielding of the "big stick;" with warnings against "despotism," "czardom" and "Caesardom." The very devil would be to pay generally!

Why is it not so in Mr. Wilson's case? Simply a difference in temperaments! Wilson is calm and mild-mannered, and is not associated in the popular mind with the paraphernalia of the "big stick." Theodore, on the other hand, is vociferous in speech and violent in action. His personality is inseparably associated with dominance and with battle.

Democratic government is as much in danger from one man as the other, and in no danger at all from either.

But because of the known temperaments of both the country accepts the actions of one with philosophic interest, while it would have "viewed with alarm" the same things if done by the other!

It is truly a curious study in the psychology of the public mind.

"TRUTH ABOUT THE NEGRO."

From several sources The Constitution's interpretation of the negro problem as set forth in an editorial last Sunday under the caption, "The Truth About the Negro," finds commendation.

The communications, published elsewhere on this page, challenge the serious thought alike of whites north and south and of the negro. They embody points of view that cannot be ignored.

The Constitution took the position that the present deplorable plight of the negro—deplorable from sanitary, hygienic, industrial, moral and mental standpoints—was due almost wholly to the faulty educational system which had been instituted just after the war, and which prevails predominantly to this day. That system has accomplished, and is accomplishing, excellent results, and vindicates the money invested in it, in so far as it equips the one negro; but in that it almost entirely neglects the negro of the ninety and nine class it will by no means solve the problem of the race as a race.

Mr. David Woodward, of Atlanta, who confirms The Constitution's general contentions, was originally from Connecticut. He has resided for many years in Atlanta, and is among the most highly esteemed business men and civic leaders of the community. Frank A. Carr, of Hendersonville, N. C., is descended from parents born and reared in Vermont, the state from which came the query that formed the basis for The Constitution's editorial. He states that for many years he wrote and spoke against the south's "treatment of the negro." After ten years' residence in the south, he declares that the bulk of the race is even more shiftless and unpromising than outlined by The Constitution. The candid commendations from three of the leading negro industrial institutions in Georgia are among the hopeful signs of the situation.

Atlantans should note carefully what Mr. Woodward has to say about the negro's disregard of sanitary laws. Every word is true. As he says, we are virtually sleeping over a volcano that may any day become active in the form of epidemics. His warning emphasizes the reiterated declaration of The Constitution that germs know no race line; the negro ill with a communicable disease is as much a menace to the white as to his own race. From selfish self-preservation alone it is suicidal to ignore this threat that exists wherever the races come in the most casual contact, and that may at any time develop into a dangerous conflagration.

These communications should be conscientiously digested by every element having to deal with the negro problem. We believe the morals they convey point the one path open for the salvation of the negro race; a matter in which the white man, whether or not he wills it, is vitally interested.

THE ATLANTA WAY.

No better evidence could be had of the fact that Atlanta is the most wonderful city of its size in this country—or any country, for that matter—than the aggressive manner in which the merchants and other business men of Atlanta went to work to secure the guarantee fund for the Shriners' convention of 1914.

While other cities, some of them twice the size of Atlanta, were hesitating as to their ability to raise a fund of $60,000, Atlanta had long ago made up her mind that she would show the world how really easy it was to secure this sum in a few hours.

The committees having the matter in charge went to work at 9 o'clock Wednesday morning. There was never the shadow of a doubt from the moment they started. By 6 o'clock the required $60,000 had been raised, and a consolidation of later returns showed a total of $75,900.

Every citizen of Atlanta has reason to be proud of the dash and enthusiasm with which the campaign was conducted. It was characteristic of a wonderful city which knows no such word as fail once she undertakes to do a thing.

The success of the campaign will mean much to Atlanta in the advertising it will give this city. Today all eyes are turned in admiration toward the Gate City of the South.

TEAM WORK FOR GEORGIA.

Citizens conspicuously identified with trade bodies throughout the state have revived the movement to establish a statewide chamber of commerce. The idea is the groundwork for the success in exploitation of many of the more progressive western commonwealths. There is no reason why it should not be practical and abundantly profitable in Georgia.

Commercial organization in this state has grown like the proverbial bean-stalk. The tendency is more and more to organize the small towns, until we are rapidly approaching the day when even the hamlet will not be without its live aggregation of boosters.

Why not gather representatives from each one of these hustling organizations and weld them into a trade board to do team work for all Georgia? Their combined energy and ingenuity would supply a sort of clearinghouse for the advancement of Georgia. Organization could be so apportioned and a constitution and bylaws so devised as to prevent the development of any one part of the state at the expense of the other. And as a matter of fact opportunity in Georgia is so plentiful and varied, that a central trade board would have little difficulty in avoiding the overlapping of its functions.

With the Georgia trade boards amalgamated there could be floated advertising and publicity campaigns for the state-at-large now impossible for any one organization to undertake. Each part of the state would be the beneficiary. The railroads and large land owners would be sure to co-operate. Indeed, after the example in practical work set by the Southern Settlement and Development organization, of which S. Davis Warfield, of Baltimore, is president, we look to see the railroads generally traversing the south to employ concrete methods to aid in the development of their territory. Let the initiative come from where it will, the formation of a statewide chamber of commerce would mark a distinct step in organizing for progress in this state.

If, as certain critics say, the "turtle cure" is "as old as the hills," it must have been sleeping as soundly all these years

His Flood Story.

The Colonel was telling this one, to an interested group of friends:

"Heard a story of a man who was drowned in the recent floods. He went to Paradise, and after telling his story to Saint Peter, the saint beckoned an angel and told him to escort the man around.

"To every one to whom he was introduced the man told his story of 'the great flood.' Suddenly an old gentleman, who had been standing with his hands behind his back, moved away with the remark: 'He makes me tired!'

"Who is that old gentleman?" the man asked. "I seem to have offended him?"

"'That's Noah,' said the angel.'"

Gossip Caught in Corridors Of the National Capitol

By John Corrigan, Jr.

Washington, April 9.—Albert J. Beveridge, commonly known as the "grand young man" of the Hoosier state, is going to be a candidate for president in 1916.

Former Senator Beveridge is a progressive and expects the support of the Bull Moose adherents in his desire to land in the white house. If effective oratory and the ability to write most interestingly on topics of national interest can accomplish that result, he has a good chance to be president.

John Corrigan, Jr.

In the meantime Senator Beveridge is going to write a book on the life of John Marshall, former chief justice of the supreme court of the United States. It is rather strange there is no comprehensive history of the life of this great jurist, although in the American Statesmen's Series, Magruder has a little volume giving an outline of his life.

Many articles and addresses on the life and works of John Marshall appeared on the one hundredth anniversary of his appointment as chief justice in 1901, the date having been observed by bar associations generally.

Constitutional Amendments.

The sixteenth amendment to the federal constitution was recently proclaimed, the first to be adopted in forty-three years. But almost on its heels the seventeenth amendment will be ratified. The former authorizes congress to lay an income tax and the latter relates to the popular election of senators.

The support given these amendments testifies to the restless spirit of change which is pervading the country. Formerly it was a difficult matter to secure amendments to the federal constitution. But the reverence in which that ancient document has been held seems to be diminishing.

This is not intended as an argument to show that the income tax or popular election of senators is not a good thing. The country seems to approve them, although many believe the same result could have been very well left to the states.

In the sixteenth amendment, the states surrender control over their election machinery to the federal congress to prescribe how the election of senators may be conducted.

In the latter amendment they give up a very valuable taxing privilege, which may be followed in its turn by allowing a federal tax on inheritances.

One Term for President.

The next constitutional amendment to be urged in congress is that limiting the president to one term. The movement has strong support, but democratic statesmen are not so earnest about urging this reform as they were a year ago. Things have happened since then.

The first ten amendments submitted to the states were proposed on September 25, 1789, and the ratifying action of Virginia on December 15, 1791, made them effective.

The eleventh amendment was submitted on September 5, 1794, and proclaimed January 8, 1789, three years and four months later. It required two months longer than this to secure the ratification of thirty-six states for the sixteenth amendment.

The twelfth amendment was submitted December 12, 1803, and proclaimed September 20, 1804.

The thirteenth amendment was submitted February 1, 1865, and proclaimed December 18, 1865. The fourteenth was submitted June 10, 1866, and proclaimed July 28, 1866. The fifteenth amendment was submitted February 27, 1869, and was proclaimed March 30, 1870.

City and County Co-operation.

At the Business Men's conference to be held in Richmond, Va., on April 16, and continuing until April 18, the work being done by southern trade bodies to develop agriculture as well as city building will be prominently emphasized.

The activity of the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce along this line is being duplicated in greater or less degree in thirty-nine other cities and towns of the south.

In telling of this work Edgar Sydenstricker, managing editor of The Advance, published in Lynchburg, Va., and the chairman of the committee on agriculture and immigration of the local trade body, in talking of city and country co-operation, had this to say:

"In something over forty centers business men have grasped the idea that in order to provide for a greater food production, a larger supply of labor and a richer field for the expansion of their retail trade, the immediately contiguous farm country must be more quickly developed and every inducement offered the boy and girl to stay on the farm.

"Business men in the south are becoming convinced that city growth is too rapid in comparison to country growth. Because of this the trade bodies in these forty cities are giving encouragement to agriculture.

"In Atlanta, Winston-Salem, Spartanburg, Louisville, Lynchburg and Beaumont and Dallas, the idea of city and county co-operation is being notably developed. Atlanta pays a salaried expert to assist farmers in nearby counties to use scentific methods. Lynchburg has a co-operative board composed of business men and farmers representing city and county governments.

"By these means they are seeking to bring about better farming methods, the building of good roads and improved facilities for marketing."

He Might Ask the Hen.

Mayor A. Taylor Coppage recently found an egg in a hen nest in his yard showing as perfect a monogram as one could wish to see. "TRUTH ABOUT THE NEGRO" DRAWS MANY APPROVALS

The Constitution is in receipt of five unusual communications indorsing its editorial of last Sunday under the caption, "The Truth About the Negro."

In that editorial, written in response to the query of a Vermont editor, the position was taken that while the prevailing system of negro education had accomplished much good, it was aimed at equipping not the ninety and nine, but only the one among the negroes.

The two letters from D. Woodward, of Atlanta, and Frank A. Carr, of Hendersonville, N. C., are significant in that both are from men of northern birth and early affiliations. Mr. Woodward, originally from Connecticut, but a resident of Atlanta for many years, is among the foremost business men and civic leaders of this city.

The other three letters are from well-known Georgia negro industrial educators.

From Mr. Woodward.

Mr. Woodward's letter follows:

Editor Constitution: I am deeply interested in your editorial in Sunday's paper, "Truth About the Negro," and I congratulate the editor of The Rutland, Vermont, Herald on the fact that he appreciates our ability to understand the negro question better than our northern friends possibly can when not in close touch with actual situation, and I further congratulate him on having written to a man who can in a broad and comprehensive manner answer the questions as you have done in this editorial.

Among other things you mention is "sanitation." "It is a dream and nightmare to both races." On account of the lack of sanitation among this class I believe that Atlanta is today living over a slumbering volcano of disease liable to break out at any time and cause us a tremendous amount of sickness and injury resulting from same. That it has not done so in the past to my mind is largely due to our extremely favorable location and climatic conditions, but with the rapid growth of the city this question of sanitation among the negroes should have immediate and careful attention.

Just at this time my attention has been called to the work of the Anti-Tuberculosis and Visiting Nurses' association, established, as you know, by our broad-minded and far-seeing, deeply lamented citizen, Captain Raoul. This is a work that has been carried on under his supervision in a manner that it is little known because of the quiet unpretentious way in which he always did his good work.

It is high time that the citizens of Atlanta were brought to realize the vast amount of good that is being accomplished by these nurses in their house to house visit in the way of educating both the whites and the blacks to a better appreciation of the necessity of proper sanitation. That the death rate from tuberculosis in Atlanta is far in excess of what it should be is well known to those familiar with our statistics. This anti-tuberculosis association is today where it must have the support of the general public or it must give up the fight. Can we afford to let an association so much needed in Atlanta, and which already has so good an organization, go by default simply for the lack of the small amount of money necessary to carry on same? Some expense for nurses and organization work must be maintained, but in addition to that this association is getting without cost the efforts and advice from many of our prominent physicians, together with the labor and efforts of our prominent ladies, and all of this without any expense whatever to the city. It is true this work should be supported entirely from the city treasury, but in view of its depleted condition this is an absolute impossibility, and it devolves upon the citizens of Atlanta to get behind this work with the funds necessary to see that it is properly maintained. Can you not do something to help us?

Thanking you in advance for your careful consideration of a subject that seems to me to be of vital importance to Atlanta, I am,

DAVID WOODWARD.

Atlanta, Ga.

A Former Northerner.

Editor Constitution: Reading the editorial, "The Truth about the Negro," compels me to add a personal letter to the seeker after knowledge which I am mailing him today and of which I send you a copy by way of encouragement and that you may know how northern people who have seen view the matter.

FRANK A. CARR.

Hendersonville, N. C.

The Copy Referred To.

Hendersonville, N. C., April 6.—Editor Herald, Rutland, Vermont—Dear Sir: I notice your inquiry and the reply of the editor in today's Atlanta Constitution, and, believing you are really seeking the light, I take the liberty of writing you a personal letter. First, my mother was born in your state and educated at the Seminary at Montpelier. My father was from North Haverhill, N. H., in which section some of his brothers still live. They moved to Wisconsin over fifty years ago, and there I was born, educated in the public school and the state university, and for years, like yourself, was engaged in editorial work.

I have written many columns of matter censuring the southern people for their abuse of the negro, and thought I was justified in so doing.

For the past ten years I have lived in and traveled over the south, and now I want to say that these people have more patience and forbearance with the negro than we of the north would ever have. The present colored generation is a shiftless, lazy, ignorant and degraded lot, not knowing how to do anything or caring to learn. Even the majority of those who are being educated in the higher schools are morally no better than the rest, and are seeking education as the means of enabling them to lead a lazier and easier life. Give 90 per cent of the negroes a full stomach and clothes enough to keep them comfortable and they will not work except for the occasional short jobs with returns of quick, ready money to spend in gambling, drinking and ministering to the most brutish instincts.

The negro philosophy seems to be that it is a shame to work for a living when one can get it by begging and stealing.

A lifelong republican, I want to be permitted to say that in my judgment the greatest mistake ever made was that of giving these people the right of citizenship, and that the greatest disgrace to the present system of government in the United States is that this ignorant, licentious and irresponsible element should be permitted to vote and influence the making and enforcing of our laws, while the earnest, conscientious and capable women of our country must stand back and submit to laws so made.

I am writing you this letter because you may feel that the editor of The Constitution is southern born, with southern prejudice, and I want to assure you that in spite of my northern birth and northern prejudice, if I still have any, he has not stated the real condition with half the strength that should be used, and, in fact, he could not in an article that was intended for publication. Yours sincerely,

FRANK A. CARR,
Hendersonville, N. C.

From Sparta Negro School.

Editor Constitution: Permit me in my weak effort to thank you for that noble and charitable reply that you made to Mr. Davison, of Rutland, Vermont, about the negro. Every word of it was the truth.

The world should have it in a pamphlet form. It will do much good to bring about a better understanding of the problem, and in the end a better feeling toward the negro.

LINTON S. INGRAM.
Principal Sparta Agricultural and Industrial Institute, Sparta, Ga.

From R. D. Stinson.

Editor Constitution: Your editorial on the condition of the negro in the black belt of Sunday's paper was called to my attention by several leaders of the negro race.

The editorial was a full, just and conservative reply to the questions asked. No honest, well-thinking person of either race can object to your views on either class of training. Accept my humble congratulation for the contribution that should be read by every sensible white man and negro of the south, as well as the north. You are doing both races a great and unselfish service through your paper.

The Ninety and Nine.

Editor Constitution: I wish to extend to you our thanks for the editorial, "The Truth About the Negro," in Sunday's Constitution. I want to assure you again that we are really trying to reach a large percentage of the neglected "ninety and nine."

I am so certain that it will do great good that I am anxious to do what I can to give the editorial just as wide publicity as possible.

WOMAN'S VIRTUE IS NOT A QUESTION OF WAGES

Editor Constitution: I have just read your broad-minded and thoroughly up-to-date editorial under the caption "The Ninety and Nine," and note thoroughly the wise words you have to say in reference to the subject in hand and the justly-deserved praise you bestow upon the article appearing in The Pittsburg Gazette-Times. In the words of a certain doughty colonel, "Bully for you." You have hit the nail squarely on the head. Keep up the good work.

It does seem unfair that a just compensation cannot be obtained for our underpaid working girls without urging this compensation on the ground that unless it is forthcoming they will probably—yea, will be most likely—to go astray. To one who knows the conditions under which these girls and women labor, often supporting younger brothers and sisters, feeble old parents and others dependent upon them, or children left to their care through widowhood and desertion, it is surprising, but nevertheless true, that so many remain blameless.

We do not question as to whether our men workers are paid a sufficient wage to keep them "virtuous"—save the mark, and there is no reason on earth why such nice precision should be required in doling out to a woman just what, and not a jot more, she will be able to exist on and remain virtuous. Pay the women what their work is worth and stop for once and all this haggling about their personal morals. If a girl or woman should happen to have 15 cents left over after paying for her board and room, it is certainly nobody's business what she does with it, and certainly no one should be allowed to say that she should work for fifteen cents less the following week.

I believe every effort should be made to give these persons employed for next-to-nothing salaries sufficient to live on in at least a small degree of comfort, but there is no use on earth in saying that unless this is done the said persons will go "wrong." Simply as a matter of common justice they should receive such a wage as this.

We have only to read the papers and look all about us to know that many, many women are living lives far below even a decent standard of virtue, who have every luxury that money can buy—wealth, homes, husbands, fathers and environment calculated—according to our hysterical agitators—to make one a paragon of virtue. Some of the dirtiest scandals which have disgraced our civilization have not been concerning the poor women who are working for next-to-nothing per week.

However, let us keep up the good work and get a decent wage for those who have to toil for so many hours each day. Give them at least food and raiment, which they have every right to expect and demand, but for God's sake don't cast a stain on their names while doing this.

The above, I take it, are your sentiments and I hope you will continue through your good paper to try to impress them upon the "half-baked" minds of some of the so-called reformers.

MADISON TRADE BOARD THANKS CONSTITUTION

One of the most recently organized chambers of commerce in Georgia, that at Madison, has passed resolutions specifically thanking The Constitution for its aid.

The following letter from General Secretary Bradley is self-explanatory:

"Enterprise and Patriotism."

"Editor Constitution: Please find inclosed a copy of the resolutions passed by our board of directors for the chamber of commerce. It affords me, personally, great pleasure to perform this duty. Your paper has, for many years, been of great assistance to me.

"With best wishes, I am,
"Very truly yours,
"C. G. BRADLEY,
"General Secretary."

Madison, Ga.

The Resolutions.

"Whereas, The Atlanta Constitution has shown most commendable enterprise and patriotism of late in encouraging, through its columns, the promotion and work of the various chambers of commerce and boards of trade that have recently been organized throughout the state; and

"Whereas, its good work, on this line, for the Madison (Morgan county) Chamber of Commerce is most worthy and commendable; therefore be it

"Resolved, That our chamber of commerce, through its committee on publicity, extend to this public-spirited journal its sincere thanks for the many favors shown us in assisting in the organization and promotion of our body corporate.

"Resolved further, That a copy of these resolutions be drafted by our secretary and sent to The Atlanta Constitution."

AMATO WILL APPEAR IN ROLE OF "CYRANO"

Much Interest Shown in Atlanta in the Appearance of the Great Baritone.

A strong demand is being noted during the past couple of days for tickets to the performance of "Cyrano," which will be given by the Metropolitan Opera company on Wednesday evening of opera week.

This demand is due partly to the fact that the opera is a novelty, but more particularly, it is believed, to the circumstance that Pasquale Amato, the great Italian baritone, whom Atlantans have admired so much in preceding years, is the creator of the name part, and will be Cyrano in the Atlanta production.

Pasquale Amato was born thirty-five years ago in Naples, and belongs to one of the best families in that city. He is a graduate of the Naples university and his parents intended to make him a civil engineer. He had studied singing as an amateur, but his friends were so enthusiastic over his splendid vocal qualities that he was strongly urged to make an artistic career. Accordingly, he took the three-year course at the Naples conservatory, and made his debut as the father in "La Traviata," in 1900, at the Bellini theater. His reputation soon began to spread, and like many successful Italian artists, he went to South America and there became acquainted with the great conductor, Mr. Arturo Toscanini. It was at the latter's suggestion that he came to Milan and sang for Mr. Gatti-Casazza, who was then the director general of the Scala opera. Mr. Gatti-Casazza immediately engaged him and he became a prime favorite of that institution.

Besides singing all the standard baritone roles Mr. Amato has the distinction of having created in Italy the role of Goland when Mr. Gatti-Casazza produced Debussy's "Pelleas and Melisande" at the Scala. He also created the title role in "Christofo Colombo." Five years ago Mr. Gatti-Casazza brought Mr. Amato to the Metropolitan opera house, where he made a deep impression on his first appearance. He is one of the few Italian baritones who also sings in German, having taken up the study of that language with his wife, who is half Austrian and half Italian. His first attempt in German opera was as Amfortas in "Parsifal," he has also sung at the Metropolitan the role of Kurvenal in "Tristan und Isolde." One of his latest successes is his creation of the role of Cyrano in Walter Damrosch's American opera "Cyrano."

STELZLE SAYS ATLANTA IS LEADER OF MORALS

Charles Stelzle, of New York city, known as "The Square Deal Preacher," who was one of the organizers of the Men and Religion vice crusade in Atlanta, has just made his first visit to Atlanta since the campaign was set on foot, and expressed himself as greatly gratified at the change that has been wrought in the moral condition of the city.

Mr. Stelzle declared that the ideal work of the Men and Religion Forward Movement is typified in Atlanta. He holds Atlanta as a model city for morality. He was thoroughly familiar with conditions here before the work of the Men and Religion people was begun, and declared that he was astonished at the results that have been produced.

Mr. Stelzle is the leader of the bureau of social service of the Presbyterian church (north), and he is expected to preside and speak at the coming social service meeting on Saturday night of the assemblies of the four Presbyterian churches, about which he came to Atlanta to confer with Rev. Jere A. Moore, secretary of the Presbyterian assemblies committee, and Dr. Richard Orme Flinn, of the program committee.

DE LOACH TO DIRECT EXPERIMENT STATION

Former Director Calvin Unanimously Exonerated of the Charges Against Him.

Griffin, Ga., April 9.—(Special.)—R. J. H. DeLoach, head of the cotton industry department of the Georgia School of Agriculture, was elected director of the state experiment station, succeeding Martin V. Calvin, at a meeting of the trustees Wednesday.

R. J. H. DELOACH,
Elected director of the Georgia experiment station on Wednesday.

Director DeLoach defeated Ira Williams by a vote of 8 to 7, and his election was afterward made unanimous.

The trustees unanimously adopted a resolution exonerating former Director Calvin from charges of inefficiency brought by assistants of the station. The trustees also adopted a resolution, discharging the investigating committee from any further work.

The other members of the station staff will be named by the trustees at a meeting to be held May 6.

Mr. Clavin states that he will not relinquish his office until July 1, at which time he had already determined to resign, regardless of the outcome of the recent confusion. He says that some two years ago he came to this decision.

ROBBERS ELUDE POSSES.

Yeggs Who Blew Summerville Bank Will Probably Escape.

Rome, aG., April 9.—(Special.)—Disheartened by a fruitless and exhaustive day's search of the hills east of Trion, the majority of the armed citizens hunting the bandits who early Tuesday morning looted the Bank of Commerce, of Summerville, and shot two citizens, returned to their homes early tonight, giving up the chase and leaving only a few officers and detectives on their trail.

The outlaws were thought to be surrounded Tuesday night, but Wednesday morning at dawn no trace of them could be found, it being believed by some that they escaped under cover of darkness and of others that they made their way down the Chattooga river earlier in the day. The chances for their capture appear to be lessening.

HOME FOR OLD WOMEN ANNEX TO OPEN TODAY

The annex to the Home for Old Women, a work of months in construction and of years of loyal effort to financing, will be thrown open to the public today at 10 o'clock. Open house will be kept from 10 until 1 o'clock and again from 2 until 6 o'clock, when it is hoped that all persons interested in the work will take the opportunity to see what has been accomplished.

Accommodations for thirty more women, in addition to the twenty now in the home, are afforded by the annex, which is a substantial building, costing $9,000, heated by steam and lighted by electricity. It is situated at 61 West End avenue.

Mrs. S. J. Purtell, the founder of the home and the moving spirit in the charity, is the president.

4TH DISTRICT SCHOOLS MEET AT BUENA VISTA

West Point, Ga., April 9.—(Special.) The West Point board of education has given the public schools of this city a vacation of two days to attend the annual meeting of the tenth congressional district high school association, which convenes in Buena Vista, Ga., on April 11 and 12.

Walter P. Thomas, superintendent of the West Point schools, is president of the association and has given much time and thought to making the approaching meeting a great success. The High school of Columbus, Newnan, LaGrange, West Point, Carrollton, Buena Vista, Talbotton, Senoia, Greenville and others will be well represented and will put up a stiff fight for all of the many prizes offered. The West Point High school teachers and students will leave for Buena Vista Thursday morning.

MRS. BRUSH ADMITS SHE WAS IN MACHINE

Earl Deel, Whose Auto Killed Boy, Is Given Freedom on $5,000 Bond.

The air of mystery surrounding the woman who was riding in the automobile driven by Earl H. Dell, a young automobile salesman, when it crushed the life out of Dolphus Casey, an 8-year-old boy, on Peachtree road Tuesday afternoon, was cleared up yesterday by the acknowledgment of Mrs. James Brush, of Peachtree Inn, that she was the woman in the car with Dell.

Dell, who was held in the Tower Tuesday night and Wednesday on a warrant charging murder, was released Wednesday afternoon on a $5,000 bond, signed by J. T. Atkinson and E. H. Carr.

The little boy, who was the son of the late R. H. H. Casey, of Wesley avenue, who was killed in a street car accident three years ago near the same place, will be buried at 10 o'clock this morning from the Buckhead Baptist church. Eight of his playmates at R. L. Hope school, at Buckhead, will act as pallbearers.

Rev. E. H. Peacock, who will conduct the service, has begun an investigation of the accident which cost the lad's life, and is seeking to place the blame.

In order that his little schoolmates may attend the funeral in a body, the R. L. Hope school at Buckhead will be closed today. All of the children have signified their intention of attending little Dolphus' funeral.

SCOUTS' FIELD DAY.

Three Hundred Boys in Events at Piedmont Park.

The Atlanta boy scouts have arranged the program for their first annual field meet, which will take place at Piedmont park Saturday afternoon, April 19 at 2:30 o'clock.

It is expected that fourteen troops will take part in this meet, making it the biggest affair of its kind ever pulled off by the boy scouts in the south. There are over 300 scouts in Atlanta. Saturday they are all invited to take part in the program.

The order of events is as follows:

Standing broad jump, 1 entrant from each troop.

1-mile run, 2 entrants from each troop.

Running broad jump, 1 entrant from each troop.

220-yard dash, 2 entrants from each troop.

Running high jump, 1 entrant from each troop.

3-legged race, 1 pair from each troop.

Shoe race, 14 years and under, 4 entrants from each troop.

8-potato race, 14 years and under, 1 entrant from each troop.

3-legged race, 14 years and under, 1 pair from each troop.

2-mile relay, 8 entrants from each troop.

First scores 5 points.
Second scores 3 points.
Third scores 1 point.

It has been decided that a trophy be offered the troop scoring most points, the trophy to remain the property of troop winning it.

Bayne Gibson, starter; Philip Weltner, timekeeper.

Asa G. Candler, judge, are the officials.

RUNS AWAY FROM HOME TO ATTEND COLLEGE

Macon, Ga., April 9.—(Special.)—One often hears of a boy running away from home to keep from going to school or running away from school after he has been sent there, but it is seldom the case that a boy can be found who will run away from home in order to get to go to college. This is what Clarence J. Permenter, son of J. J. Permenter, of Macon, has done.

Last Sunday the boy accompanied his mother to Sunday school. He failed to return home, and all trace was lost of him until today, when his mother received a letter from him in which he states he is now a student at Young Harris college, in north Georgia, and intends to stay there during the balance of the school year.

Mrs. Permenter has given her consent, and will see that the boy is permitted to return again next year.

NEGROES WILL ELECT CONGRESS DELEGATES

The colored executive committee of the Southern Sociological congress, Rev. E. A. Carter, president, issued a call at a meeting held Wednesday in the colored Y. M. C. A., in Auburn avenue, for a gathering of the social service workers of Atlanta for Friday afternoon at 4 o'clock in the Y. M. C. A. rooms.

Rev. W. A. Fountain, president of the Morris Brown college, presided at the meeting, which was attended by the following prominent colored social and religious workers of the city:

J. B. Watson, international secretary of the Y. M. C. A.; W. T. Thompson, of Radcliffe Memorial Presbyterian church; R. S. Stinson, principal of the Atlanta Normal and Industrial institute; W. A. Rucker, late collector of revenue, of Atlanta; J. O. Ross, president of the Atlanta State Savings bank; C. M. Tanner, pastor of the Big Bethel A. M. E. church; C. M. Manning, professor of Morris Brown college; A. Eustice Day, rector of St. Paul's Episcopal church; Mrs. S. C. J. Bryant, Mrs. John Hope, Mrs. Alice Dugged Cary, J. S. Downs, pastor of Monumental A. M. E. church; S. F. Andrews, of St. Paul's A. M. E. church; P. G. Simmons, president A. M. E. Ministers' union; W. J. Trent, secretary of the Y. M. C. A., and Matthew W. Bullock.

At Friday's meeting the colored social workers will formally organize themselves into a social workers' club, delegates from the body being selected at that time to attend the meetings of the Sociological congress, which convenes here April 25.

JOHN CARSON SAVES FIDDLE FROM FLAMES

Fiddlin' John Carson, who knows no music but can make the strings weep and cry and laugh and dance, who plays to the feet, as well as the hearts, of his hearers, lost his all yesterday when his little cottage in the Exposition Mill village was burned.

And yet not entirely all; for John saved his fiddle. Wrapped in red flannel to keep away the damp, hidden far back in a bureau drawer away from harm, it was found safe by Fiddlin' John, who entered the house at the risk of his life. Furniture was burning, the family album was beginning to crack under the heat, but they were nothing compared to the instrument which stampeded thousands on the last night of the Old Fidlers' convention, Fiddlin' John's greatest triumph.

WINDY MONTH PROVED RAINIEST IN HISTORY

Average of 8.9 Inches for the Entire State Was Recorded During March.

Following the sudden cold spell of early Wednesday morning, when the temperature dropped to 46 degrees and a cold wind caused Atlantans to seek out winter clothes again, the weather bureau now promises rain and a warmer temperature for today.

The cause for the sudden coolness is given as an inrush from the New England states of an area of low barometer which, instead of traveling out into the Atlantic ocean, swung in a southerly direction down the eastern coast and imparted its effects far to the inland.

March, known as the month of blustery winds, came near producing a state-wide record for rainfall this year when an average of 8.9 inches for the entire state was recorded. This is 4.99 inches above the normal of 4 inches for the windy month.

Statistics compiled from the reports sent to the local division from the seventy rainfall stations throughout the state give this avearge, which has never before been equalled by March, and which was only beaten twice before in the records for other months. In August, 1898, and in August, 1901, more rain fell, when these months had 10.09 and 9.92 inches, respectively, recorded against them.

Stations where the heaviest rainfall occurred during the month just passed are: Talbotton, 14.61; Butler, 14.19; Woodbury, 13.70; Diamond, 13.52; Concord, 13.37; Dublin, 13.15; West Point, 12.72, and Milledgeville, 12.64 inches. Atlanta's rainfall during that period was 9.14 inches. The lowest rainfall recorded at any station in March was 4.12 inches at Valona, in McIntosh county. By a coincidence, Diamond, Ga., was the only station in the northern section of Georgia that recorded a rainfall anywhere near as heavy as that in the southern and middle sections.

CORNER STONE LAID FOR NEW SYNAGOGUE

Thomasville, Ga., April 9.—(Special.) The laying of the corner stone for the new Jewish synagogue took place here this afternoon with impressive ceremonies, and was witnessed by a very large crowd.

The Woodmen of the World, now in convention here, were invited to take part in the ceremonies, and marched to the spot in a body. The members of the city council, the Daughters of Zion and others also formed in procession with the Woodmen.

The principal addresses were made by Dr. George Solomon, of Savannah, and Rr. Rosenthal, of Columbus. They were both very fine and much enjoyed. Dr. Solomon has been heard here several times before, and always draws a good crowd to hear him. Dr. Rosenthal is a prominent Woodman and is in attendance upon the convention. The ceremony of laying the ocrner stone was very impressive, and a number of articles of interest were placed in it.

matory with union mechanics, but the Griffin Construction company has used union and non-union men.

W. E. Dowd, Jr., sales manager for the Destructor company, who is in Atlanta endeavoring to collect $50,000 on an estimate approved by Chief of Construction Clayton, says that while the city did not stipulate that union men were to be employed on the crematory job, the Destructor company insisted on treating with the unions.

According to Manager Dowd, the work threatened to be stopped by the strike is very important. If the Griffin Construction company declines to treat with the union, and the international officers call a strike, the work will be delayed beyond June, the time he has promised to give the first unit to the city to burn garbage.

Delay Would Be Unfortunate.

"We have been working our force at night in order to get the first unit finished and burning," Managed Dowd stated Wednesday. "It has cost us a lot of extra money, and it will be unfortunate to have the work stopped or delayed by labor troubles which we are in no wise to blame for."

Manager Dowd made the statement also that two units instead of one will be finished in June, if the strike is arbitrated without any delays. One unit will be burning garbage, and the other will be in the process of drying out.

Despite the fact that the floods in the north have delayed the special fire clay bricks that have been ordered for the furnaces, other arrangements have been made so that the work will not be interfered with.

Payment Not Yet Approved.

Counillman Claude L. Ashley, chairman of the sanitary committee of council, had not approved the payment of $50,000 as the first installment on the crematory. He said he wanted time to think the matter over.

Mayor Woodward says he will not approve the warrant until the supreme court decides the injunction that was filed against the city.

The Destructor company estimated its work and material on the crematory to date to be $62,000. However, Captain Clayton gave his approval to the payment of only $50,000, the amount of the bond issue voted by the people for crematory purposes.

The real estate want ads in The Constitution have paved the wav to success for many. Why don't you read and use them, too?

34 DIVORCE VERDICTS GRANTED WEDNESDAY

In Two Cases the Jury in the Superior Court Refused to Separate Couples.

The record for the week up to date was made yesterday in superior court when the jury in the divorce division ground out 34 verdicts, most of which were the first decrees separating mismated couples.

As on previous days the greater part of the allegations for legal separation were those of cruelty and desertion and the great majority of them were filed by women.

Mrs. C. D. Hardigree put up the plea that for the past fourteen years she had been supporting J. P. Hardegree, to whom she declared she was married in 1879. She declared that the man was indolent and remained idle, spending what little money he obtained on drink. She got a first verdict.

Other causes for separation were advanced, and among them was the mother-in-law charge. Mrs. Bennie Rusk made this claim in her suit against George Rusk. She declared that she could not abide the treatment she received from her husband's mother. She also charged cruelty to him A first verdict was given her.

Among the other divorce suits were the usual string of claims and allegations, most of which were based upon neglect and cruel treatment, with several charges of abandonement.

The present jury, of which E. E. Lowe is foreman, has established an unusual record in going into the merits of cases, instead of granting, as has been the custom, practically all undefended suits. Two suits were denied Wednesday. Mrs. Mary M. McNeesse, who received her first verdict last fall, from James H. McNeesse, was denied a final verdict on the grounds that she had not shown actual cruelty on his part. John Stinnett was denied a first verdict from Mrs. Sallie Stinnett, the jurymen basing this on the fact that they were not satisfied that he was a bona fide resident of Atlanta, who had not come here simply to get a divorce.

HALTS CHASE OF YEGGS TO ARREST BLIND NEGRO

Rome, Ga., April 9.—(Special.)—Detective M. S. Baughn, of the William J. Burns office in Atlanta, while whirling through the country at a rapid rate in a big touring car on his way to Summerville to take charge of the search for the yeggmen who dynamited a bank there, ordered his driver to halt two miles west of Rome, when he saw a blind negro selling whisky from a jug.

Baughn arrested the darkey, and returned to Rome, where he was placed in jail on the charge of selling whisky, which he strenuously denies. The detective then turned his car toward Summerville and resumed his journey.

Local officers do not know what the evidence in the case is, but the detective stated before leaving that he was caught in the act, which the negro denies.

IMPROVEMENT BONDS CARRY IN ROCHELLE

Rochelle, Ga., April 9.—(Special.)—In the election held here today for bonds for the purpose of installing waterworks and electric light systems the vote was almost unanimous for bonds, only 11 votes being cast against them. Two-thirds of the registered voters was necessary.

The contract will be awarded the J. B. McCrory company, of Atlanta, and an up-to-date system will be put in.

STOCKMAN PROMOTED; GETS POSITION IN CUBA

George D. Stockman, of New Orleans, for the past month stationed in Atlanta in connection with his work in the auditing department of the Western Union Telegraph company, was yesterday promoted to be district cashier of Cuba, with headquarters in Havana. He leaves for the island today, going by way of Key West and the oversea railroad.

It is a source of regret to his many friends here and elsewhere throughout the south that Mr. Stockman is going so far away, but many sincere congratulations on the advancement have been given him.

Mrs. Cobbs' Luncheon.

A handsome entertainment yesterday was the luncheon given by Mrs. H. L. Cobbs at the Driving club, when fifty ladies enjoyed her hospitality.

They were seated for luncheon at small tables in the dining room, each table having its decoration in pink roses and spirea, and a buffet table in the center was picturesque in pink and white, its centerpiece a wicker basket of Killarney roses resting on a lace cover laid over pink satin. The silver candlesticks had rose and crystal shades, and silver dishes were filled with pink rose bonbons. The guests had been received in the living room, where palms were massed in artistic decoration, and coffee was served in the music room, which was gay with dogwood blossoms.

Mrs. Cobbs was gowned in blue satin charmeuse trimmed with blue moire, and her black straw hat was trimmed with flowers.

The luncheon was the first of a series of entertainments she will give during the season.

Class Reunion, B. H. S.

The classes of 1910, literary and commercial, and the classes of 1911 and 1912, literary department of the girls' high school, will hold a reunion Friday afternoon at 4 o'clock in Browning hall, and all the alumni are urged to attend.

The occasion will be very informal with no set program of entertainment.

Mrs. Traylor's Luncheon.

Mrs. George Traylor's luncheon yesterday was a happy affair in compliment to Mrs. H. S. Mitchell, of Norwalk, Ohio, who is visiting her daughter, Mrs. Edward T. Brown.

Asesembled to meet Mrs. Mitchell were Mrs. Brown, Mrs. Don Pardee, Mrs. Fleming duBignon, Mrs. Thod Hammond, Mrs. Henry Jackson, Mrs. Samuel Inman, Mrs. Burton Smith, Mrs. A. G. Hobbs and her sister, Mrs. Thompson; Mrs. Frank Hawkins, Mrs. Thomas, Mrs. George Brown, Mrs. Samuel Weyman, Mrs. Norwood Mitchell, Mrs. William A. Speer, Mrs. James Gilbert, Mrs. Fenn, Mrs. Harry Harman, Mrs. Alex Smith, Mrs. Clark Howell, Mrs. Roby Robinson, Mrs. Woods and Mrs. Henry Miller.

The table in the dining room from which sweets were served had as its centerpiece a beautiful combination of pink carnations and spirea, and artistic detail of service and decoration was in pink and white. The place cards were painted in spring flowers and the reception rooms had effective decoration in them.

To Mrs. Snow.

Mrs. Charles A. Davis was hostess at a beautiful luncheon yesterday, the occasion assembling a group of ladies in the neighborhood to meet Mrs. John Raine's guest, Mrs. William H. Snow, of Connecticut.

They were received in the library, which had the season's ideal decoration—branches of crabapple blossoms in tall jardinieres, and luncheon was served at small tables in the spacious sun parlor adjoining. There boughs of dogwood and branches of crabapple blooms were again effective against the brick walls and dull blue hangings, and spring flowers were used in garnishing the silver platters, which were used in the service of an elegant luncheon.

Mrs. Davis wore a smart black charmeuse, with a trimming in black and white striped satin. Mrs. Snow wore a black crepe de chine embroidered in cut jet which was veiled with black chiffon, and her toque was trimmed with a paradise aigrette. Mrs. Raine wore a pastel green ratine gown with a black picture hat. Mrs. Hudson Moore, receiving with her mother, wore dark blue foulard with a trimming of blue and white striped satin.

Among the striking toilettes noted among the guests was that of Mrs. Emma Neal Douglas, who wore a tan brocade gown, the corsage having color in pale blue revers and a trimming in lace. Her brocade slippers were of the material of the gown, and her blue braid hat was trimmed with shaded blue and tan plumes held in place by a silver rose.

SUSPENDED AT GEORGIA.

C. H. Newsome Charged With Stuffing Ballot Box.

Athens, Ga., April 9.—(Special.)—With an A. B. degree conferred upon him last commencement, and both the A. M. and the B. L. probably won for the coming commencement in a record for study, Charles H. Newsome, of Eatonton, is suspended by the faculty of the University of Georgia, and while he has attended some classes in the past few days, his name has not been called. He has had also the office of financial manager of the Athletic association required of him; also the chairmanship of the chief board of the Demosthenian society, and other college community offices.

Mr. Newsome, in a hotly contested election of editors and managers of The Pandora, the college annual, was accused of stuffing the ballot box. He was called to trial before the senior class and failed to show up. He was finally declared guilty and a penalty was imposed, which the class found it could not enforce. The matter then was referred to the faculty and by the faculty to the chancellor. The faculty meantime suspended the defendant. The chancellor gave him an opportunity to furnish a defense.

Newsome holds that he has not had an opportunity for fair trial, and that if those found guilty of cheating on examinations are required only to make public apology, he should, if guilty, be allowed the same course. Newsome was head of a powerful political organization among the students and the body was split wide on the Newsome matter and on many another matter in which the Newsome and the anti-Newsome elements warred.

HALF MILLION ACRES FOR FOREST RESERVE

Washington, April 9.—Timber lands to the extent of 72,000 acres in New Hampshire, North Carolina and Tennessee, were approved for purchase at a meeting here today of the National Forest Reservation commission. This makes a total of 500,000 acres of Appalachian and White Mountain forest lands approved or already brought under complete government control since the passage of the Weeks bill several years ago, providing for the protection of eastern watersheds.

BACON PROPOSES PLAN TO LEASE EMBASSIES

Washington, April 9.—A comprehensive plan for leasing embassies and legations abroad, and their ultimate purchase, was proposed by Senator Bacon in a bill introduced today and referred to the foreign relations committee.

For the leasing of an official residence of the ambassadors at Great Britain, France, Germany and Russia, the bill would authorize the appropriation annually of $20,000 each and the appropriation of $10,000 each for furnishing the same. Lesser amounts are proposed for the smaller capitals.

Barred Blow at Women.

Albany, N. Y., April 9.—Assemblyman Cuvillier attempted to introduce a resolution today "that the legislature of the state of New York send its congratulations to the state of Michigan for its wise judgment in defeating the woman suffrage amendment, thereby helping to protect womanhood of America and the institutions of free government." The resolution was read for the information of the assembly, but unanimous consent necessary for its introduction was refused.

Miss Connally's Tea.

All the flowers of spring, indoors and out, gave their part to the beauty of the afternoon tea yesterday at which Miss Frances Connally was hostess.

The shades were not drawn, and through the open windows were entrancing views of the "Homestead" garden, which more than ever resplendent this season with an endless variety of bloom, and glowed yesterday in the sunshine of an ideal spring day.

The crabapple tree in bloom over the gate, the wistaria overhanging the porch, and flag lilies, violets, hare bells, dogwood and narcissi were some of the flowers at their height of beauty outdoors.

In the drawing room there was elaborate decoration in great boughs of crabapple blossoms and dogwood and vases of narcissi.

In the dining room, where ices were served the table centerpiece was a plateau combining narcissi and white flag lilies, white violets and hare bells, and pretty detail of appointment was in white and silver.

Tea was served in the loggia, which was garden-like with palms and branches of dogwood, and in the library the punch bowl was set in the midst of dogwood, and narcissi filled vases on mantel and bookcases, while palms were massed effectively throughout the house.

Miss Connally was gowned in pink satin charmeuse and lace, with a gold girdle. Mrs. E. L. Connally, receiving with her daughter, wore white silk mousseline and lace. Miss Rosser wore rose charmeuse and lace. Mrs. John Spalding was gowned in black chantilly lace, and Mrs. Warner Martin wore white brocade.

Miss Sallie Engenia Brown and Miss Joseph M. Brown presided at the punch bowl, and Mrs. Elijah Brown and Mrs. George M. Brown at the tea table.

Assisting in entertaining were Mrs. Luther Rosser, Mrs. L. Z. Rosser, Jr., Mrs. Joseph Eby, Miss Courtney Harrison, Miss Charles Owens, Miss Caroline King, Miss Mary Robinson, Miss Lulua Dean Jones, Miss Elizabeth Morgan, Miss Martha Francis, Miss Passie May Ottley, Miss Mildred Borden, of Goldeboro, N. C.; Miss Marjorie Brown and her guest, Miss Katherine Benham, of St. Louis; Miss Corrie Hoyt Brown, Miss Ruth Rosser, Miss Annie May Shelton, Miss Emma Connally, Mrs. E. W. Martin, Mrs. George Tigner and Mrs. Carroll Latimer.

Illustrated Reading.

Seven young ladies, students in Mrs. Curtis Arnall-North's school of expression, will give an interpretive recital of "The Ancient Mariner," by Coleridge in the Sunday school rooms of the First Methodist church next Friday evening.

The occasion will be a sociable one, and the public is invited to attend.

Those rendering the several parts will be: Misses Grace Holsenbeck Martha Louise Cassels, Annie Lois Brooks, Helen Johnson, Marie Bennett, Gladys Cook, and Dorothy Knapp.

Athletic Club Dance.

The regular week-end dance will be given by the members of the Athletic club at their country club house at East Lake, on Saturday night.

Housekeepers' Sale.

A cake and candy sale will be a feature of attraction at the housekeepers' blue tag sale, which is to be conducted Friday and Saturday at the Singer seming machine store, 73 Mitchell street, the Junior Missionary society of the First Methodist church to be in charge.

All kinds of towels, aprons, caps, laundry bags, and the like will be of interest to housekeepers, and a general patronage is invited by the little girls of the society.

Important Meeting.

On Thursday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock there will be a meeting of the Atlanta chapter, U. D. C., at the Woman's club rooms. This meeting will be in the interest of the Shiloh monument. The battle of Shiloh was fought on April 6 and 7, 1862, 51 years ago and on that field was demonstrated southern valor and heroism and there the brave and devoted Albert Sidney Johnston gave up his life. There has never been any membrial tablet placed on this battlefield to perpetuate the deeds of the Confederate soldiers, who fought there, so Shiloh day has been set apart especially for the purpose of securing a fitting monument to tell of the bravery and the devotion of the south. Each state has a committee especially appointed in the interest of this monument. Mrs. J. K. Ottley is the chairman of this committee for the state of Georgia, and the meeting of Thursday afternoon will be under her direction.

The executive board of the chapter will meet at 3 o'clock.

PROPOSED BANK LAWS DISCUSSED AT MACON

Bankers of Group 5 Refuse to Give Their Indorsement to Suggested Legislation.

Macon, Ga., April 9.—(Special.)—The election of officers and the decision to hold future annual conventions in Macon, together with a general discussion of proposed legislation in the interest of the banking institutions of Georgia, featured the annual meeting of Group 5 of the Georgia Bankers' association, today in Macon.

The following were the new officers elected:

Chairman, C. B. Lewis, Macon; vice chairman, L. B. Holt, Sandersville; secretary, J. W. Brown, Locust Grove; orator, J. L. Finn, Dublin.

The fight against the resolution calling for the hearty indorsement of the proposed new banking bill was led by O. A. Park, of Macon, who declared that the bill was inadequate to the needs of the banking institutions of Georgia. The resolution to indorse the new banking bill was introduced by Benjamin Hunt, of Eatonton, president of the Georgia Bankers' association. It was defeated decisively.

Mr. Park pointed out the deficiencies of the proposed new bill, declarin it provided for only one ne wdepartment, and adding that that department could not be very effective. He said that the chief need of Georgia bankers was a law that would throttle the "wild-cat" banks, but making it necessary to have all capital paid in upon organization, and laws which would restrict the amount of money to be loaned by a bank to one of its officers or any individual.

Mr. Hunt, in urging the adoption of his resolution, said that the bankers could not hope to get perfect laws all at once, but would have to take their legislation piecemeal.

FROM PERSON OF YOUNG WOMAN UNITED STATES TAKES JEWELS

New York, April 9.—The government today withdrew a diamond engagement ring from the left hand of a young woman to protect creditors of a firm involved in involuntary bankruptcy proceedings. It also removed a bracelet from her wrist and a lavalliere from about her neck. Judge Mayer, in federal court, was informed by the receiver of Fliss Brothers & Gordon, clothing manufacturers, that Max Gordon, one of the partners, had bought $600 worth of jewelry for a young woman just before the bankruptcy petition was filed. Gordon explained that the young woman was his fiancee, said the receiver, and he had thought the firm's business was prosperous. The girl was in court, and Judge Mayor directed her to surrender the jewelry.

Rev. W. W. Memminger Will Repeat Lecture on "Cyrano de Bergerac"

The Rev. W. W. Memminger, rector of All Saints' church, has been asked to repeat the talk which he recently gave at the home of Mrs. Milton Dargan on "Cyrano de Bergerac" and will give the entertainment on Monday afternoon, April 14, at 4 o'clock in the palm room of the Georgian Terrace. The first reading was arranged for the benefit of one of the chapters of the church, and the second will be given for the benefit of the mill work at LaGrange, Ga., which is one of the activities of All Saints.

Those in charge of the entertainment were especially anxious for Mr. Memminger to repeat "Cyrano," as it is one of the operas to be given by the Metropolitan Opera company, and the talk and reading will be a preparation for those who contemplate hearing the opera.

Mr. Memminger will talk first of the drama by Rostand then as adopted to opera by Walter Damrosch, composer, and W. J. Henderson, critic and writer of the libretto.

HIGH PRICES WARN OF COMING HUNGER

So Congressman Summers Says in Addressing Farm Credits Conference—One Speaker Says Farmers Generally Are Not Business Men.

Chicago, April 9.—Everybody at the farm credits conference got enthusiastic today and some of them became excited in discussing the high cost of living, the meager returns to the farmer on his products and the best means of readjusting the economic problem at present very much awry as among the agriculturists, middlemen and the ultimate consumer.

There was such a wealth of opinion clamoring for expression that it could not be crowded into the two sessions provided by the program and a session was held tonight at which the pressure was somewhat relieved.

Speeches down on the program were delivered by Harry Pratt Judson, president of the University of Chicago; C. W. Thompson, of Minneapolis; Hatton W. Sumners, of Dallas, Texas; J. H. Page, of Arkansas, and W. J. Spillman, of the department of agriculture at Washington. B. F. Yoakum, chairman of the board of diretcors of the Frisco lines, is ill at a sanitarium, but an address prepared by him was read to the conference. Louis W. Hill, president of the Great Northen railroad system, was to have discussed the relation of railroads to the marketing of farm products, but was detained at St. Paul.

Farmers Not Business Men.

Among those who enlivened the proceeding with impromptu discussion were H. S. Moberly, president of the Farmers' union of Arkansas, and George McKerrow, superintendent of farmers institutes of Wisconsin. In the course of his remarks Mr. Moberly said that in general farmers were not business men.

"Wisconsin farmers make very successful business men," interjected McKerrow.

The Arkansan averred that, compared with the business men of the cities, the farmer cannot organize, finance and manage a co-operative scheme. Generally, he said, they have not the capital, business ability and information required. He mentioned a number of farmers' organizations which had failed. The Wisconsin man again arose.

"The farmers of my state," he declared, "not only can but have organized many permanently successful companies. They do business like any city firm."

He cited the organizations of dairy and fruit men as examples.

Moberly said there was a vast difference between handling cotton and handling dairy products, owing to the immense difficulty of grading cotton. The time of production and the fact that half the cotton crop is marketed within a period of three months were other difficulties, he said. In addition the cotton growers have no storage facilities. Co-operative warehouses have failed, he said.

High Prices Forecast Hunger.

Mr. Summers, who is a member of congress, said that as the necessities of the people change, the scope of government must change and that the matter of farm credits was a legitimate concern of the national government. The speaker said that with the rush from the farms to the cities which followed the introduction of rapid transit, the margin between farm production and general consumption had become dangerously narrow. The high prices of today are the sinister shadow of coming hunger cast upon the land, he asserted. There is no system of carrying over the surplus of bountiful years to care for the lean years.

Mr. Thompson discussed reasons why farmers are not effectively organized, declaring the greatest reason was that they were unwilling to pay enough money to obtain able managers. Also it is not enough that they should put their money into organization, they must put themselves into it.

"Many of the farmers' organizations of the northwest were started by certain outside interests for the sake of their own pecuniary gain," he asserted. "Certain manufacturing companies have organized little creamery companies to sell cream separators and to dispose of creamery outfits at from $500 to $1,000 in excess of the market price. We may rest assured that whoever does the organizing will be apt to look after the interests of the organizing body rather than to be especially concerned in adapting the organization to its own purpose."

Mrs. Woodrow Wilson Accepts.

Washington, April 9.—Mrs. Woodrow Wilson has accepted the honorary vice presidency of the Southern Educational association, which has for its purpose the industrial education of impoverished uneducated children.

METHODIST WOMEN MEET IN BIRMINGHAM

Birmingham, Ala., April 9.—Hundreds of delegates from all parts of the south arrived today for the third annual convention of the Woman's Missionary Council of the Methodist Episcopal church, south, which began a seven days' session here tonight.

Four bishops of the church will be in attendance as well as other prominent ministers interested especially in missions. Missionaries from oth foreign and domestic fields will be on hand and before the sessions end a large class of new missionaries will be consecrated.

Touring Car Burns Up.

Macon, Ga., April 9.—(Special.)—Miss Ida Holt's Cadillac touring car was destroyed by a fire this morning which burned the garage in the rear of her home, 320 Orange street.

How the fire originated is not known, but it is believed the negro chaffeur had just returned the car after taking a "joy ride" without the knowledge of his employer, and when the fire broke out he quickly disappeared. So far he has not yet been located.

How American Women May Keep Faces Young

"The American smart woman ages early, far earlier than the English woman," says Christian Miller, F. C. I., the famous English health expert. She adds that our climate "so exhilarates that you over-exert yourselves and grow old before you know it. That same exhilarating air dries the skin. The skin that lacks moisture grows pale and withered looking and soon forms wrinkles.

"The American complexion" is best treated by applying pure mercolized wax, which causes the faded, lifeless cuticle to flake off in minute particles, a little each day, until the fresh, young skin beneath is wholly in evidence. Every druggist has this wax; one ounce is sufficient. Spread on at night like cold cream, washing it off next morning.

For wrinkles, dissolve an ounce of powdered saxolite in a half pint witch hazel; bathe the face in this. Immediately every wrinkle is affected, even the deeper lines. Both treatments are remarkable facial rejuvenators.

Play Ball—"ME GRANMUDDER'S DEAD!"—Play Ball

EDITED BY DICK JEMISON

Crackers and Lookouts Ready; Bill's Clan Slight Favorites; Great Rivalry Between Cities

Chattanooga, Tenn., April 9.—(Special.)—Billy Smith, accompanied by Secretary Parker and seventeen players, arrived here tonight shortly after 8 o'clock, and have established headquarters at the Hotel Patten.

The report that Billy is unpopular in this burg could not be proven by a visit to Cracker headquarters tonight. The former Lookout chieftain conducted a reception in the lobby of the hostelry that would have done credit to a president.

"I feel like I had been pumping gallons of water from a rusty country pump," said Bill, with a grin that spread from ear to ear. Although tired out from shaking hands with his many friends, the Cracker leader beamed. He hardly expected such a reception.

"How's the bunch?" Bill was asked.

"Every one is fit and ready for the fray, and we'll be right in there tomorrow afternoon battling you for that old ball game," was his characteristic reply.

Players Optimistic.

Bill's players are a most optimistic bunch. Confidence as to the outcome of the series oozes out of their countenances. Sunny Jims are their artillery in their rapid-fire attack on local fandom.

Several local fans started a kidding bee in the lobby. Bill appears to have several good comedians, as well as good players, on his ball club. It is needless to say that the fans got the worst of the kidding.

But the reception and parade in the lobby were of short duration. The judgment of the Crackers got the better of their desire for fun at the expense of local fandom, and one by one they piled off for the hay, in anticipation of the big doings tomorrow.

Gala Day Planned.

Chattanooga is talking, thinking and dreaming baseball tonight. Thursday will be in the nature of a legal half-holiday. The local fans are back of the club. Chattanooga expects to land the opening game best attendance trophy.

The retail merchants, the wholesalers, the shops and factories are going to give their employees the afternoon off to root for the home contingent.

But although popular opinion through patriotism is with the locals, and every fan is pulling for the Lookouts to open the season with victory, there is no gainsaying the fact that the opposition will be strong.

Local fans realize that Bill Smith has a formidable ball club. Results of the exhibition games are sufficient evidence of the fact. No matter what kind of pitching the Crackers were up against, their hitting in those games was great, even had the twirlers been amateurs, which they were not.

Bookies Back Crackers.

The chief plunging element of the city have taken the Atlanta end for the opening game and for the series. The sharps seem to like Bill's club the best, but will not wager better than even money that the visitors cop.

Among the every-day fans, the ones who register an occasional bet and the ones who when they bet are not willing to risk more than a five spot on any contest, even money is the best they will give to visiting sports.

Non-partisan baseball fans from other cities, the transient population of the city and the non-betting fraternity figure the series so close that they are unwilling to risk even a guess on the possible winner.

The interest in the games, the rivalry between the two cities and the personal element that enters into the battling between Atlanta and Chattanooga tend to add to the excitement.

The fact that Bill Smith, manager of the Chattanooga team last season, is leading an opposition club in the opening game of the series here adds to the interest. Bill has many friends here. They will be at the game in a body.

The Managers' Feud.

The reported hard feeling between Managers Smith and Elberfeld, as the result of Elberfeld's desire to be declared a free agent by Washington and Smith's blocking of the deal, is another feature to be considered.

The weather forecast is for a fair day, with a slightly rising temperature toward game time. It is expected that the thermometer will register close to 70 degrees when the umpires call play ball.

Manager Elberfeld definitely decided on his pitching selection tonight. Forest More, the veteran right-hander, is his choice.

ATLANTA.	CHATTANOOGA.
Agler, 1b	Coyle,, 1b.
Alperman, 2b	King, cf.
Welchonce, cf	Elberfeld, ss.
Bailey, lf	Massey, 3b.

WILSON TO PITCH FIRST BALL TODAY

The President Will Officially Open the Baseball Season at Washington if Weather Permits.

Washington, April 9.—Dropping tariff schedules temporarily for the baseball schedule, President Woodrow Wilson is expected to open the American league season here tomorrow afternoon between Washington and the New York team by tossing the first ball. This was the program tonight, but it all depends upon the weather. Indications tonight were none too favorable for tomorrow, with rain and cool weather predicted.

Although probably not quite as enthusiastic a "fan" as Former President Taft, President Wilson has accepted the "presidential pass" and hopes to attend many games.

Plans have been completed for tomorrow's struggle and prospects are that local "fans" will be out in full force if the weather permits. Walter Johnson probably will pitch for the home team, and Caldwell for New York.

The California Legislature Puts Ban on Prize Fighting; Only 4-Round Exhibitions

Sacramento. April 9.—The Brown anti-prize fight bill, designed to stop boxing in California and making it a misdemeanor even to sign a contract for a match to be staged elsewhere, was favorably reported by a senate committee last night, without debate and without a dissenting vote.

Should the measure become a law, it will prohibit all boxing for which an admission fee is charged of more than four rounds, and for which a prize of any kind is offered, except that a medal not to exceed $35 in value may be bestowed upon the winner.

NAP RUCKER HAS HIS USUAL LUCK

And Brooklyn Team Loses the Opening Game of the Season to Philadelphia by 1 to 0 Score.

Brooklyn, N. Y., April 9.—Philadelphia beat Brooklyn in the special opening game of the National league season, which marked the formal occupation of Ebbetts Field today. The cold, raw wind kept the attendance down, but did not affect the players, who put up a remarkable battle. Both Seaton and Rucker pitched brilliant ball, the former just shading the noted southpaw in a 1 to 0 shut-out.

Benny Meyer, the heavy-hitting recruit from Toronto, lost the game for Rucker in the first inning. With one out, Knabe doubled to right. Meyer muffed Lobert's foul in the sun field, but Stegel overcome this error by making a sensational catch of a long fly from the same batter. Then Meyer muffed Magee's fly leting Knabe in with the only run of the contest. Stengel added further to his reputation by grabbing Dolan's single and cutting off Magee by a great throw to the plate.

Neither side was able to score thereafter.

Rucker was taken out in the eighth, when, with one out, Fisher and Miller made scratch hits, and Callahan was sent in as a pinch batter. The substitute forced Miller, and Stengel was out on a corking stop by Dolan. This was Brooklyn's best chance to score. Ragon pitched the last inning and showed good form.

The opening ceremonies were impressive, the two teams parading across the field headed by a band and Borough President Alfred E. Steers threw out the first ball.

Score by innings:		R.	H.	E.
Philadelphia	100 000 000	1	8	0
Brooklyn	000 000 000	0	6	3

Batteries—Seaton and Dooin; Rucker, Ragon and Miller. Time, 1:30. Umpire, Klem and Orth.

COLLEGE GAMES

Alabama 1, Tulane 0.

University of Alabama, April 9.—(Special.)—In one of the best played games of the season on the local diamond, Alabama defeated Tulane 1 to 0. A high wind blew during the entire game, and kept down the hitting. Many near hits veered by the wind into waiting mits or into foul territory.

Pratt was on the mound for the locals and let Tulane down with three scattered hits. He kept his bases cleared by good control and otherwise pitched a masterly game.

On the other hand, battery errors lost the game to the visitors. Jopin, first man up for Alabama, drew life on a muffed third strike, and stole second. He went to third on a fielder's choice, and came home when Gosa hit safely to center for one station.

Taylor's bad throwing, which contributed to the run, permitted six stolen bases, Joplin getting three of them.

Score:		R.	H.	E.
Tulane	000 000 000	0	3	0
Alabama	100 000 00x	1	4	1

Batteries—Tulane, Vandevere and Booth; Alabama Pratt and Wells. Umpire, McLaughlin.

Dan Carey Will Distribute Twenty-Eight Diamonds for Use of the Local Amateurs

General Manager of Parks Dan Carey will hold a meeting in his office at 5:15 o'clock this afternoon for the purpose of distributing the twenty-eight diamonds which the local amateurs will use for their league games this season.

The assigning of diamonds was put up to Mr. Carey this year by the Amateur Athletic federation. Handling it through his office will eliminate any conflicting dates, it is believed.

Every team and league in the city is requested to have a representative at the meeting. Those who do not will be left out of the assignments, and, therefore, will be without a home place to play.

TOM BUNDY UNABLE TO PLAY TENNIS MATCH

San Francisco, April 9.—Thomas C. Bundy, of Los Angeles, joint holder with Maurice E. McLaughlin of the national tennis doubles championship, will not participate in the preliminary Davis cup matches in New York June 6, 7 and 8. Business interests prevent his making the trip. Jones and Rice, of the Australian Davis cup team, are scheduled to arrive at San Francisco April 25

COBB WILL NOT PLAY IN OPENER

President Navin and the Star Batsman Are Still at Outs. Ty Disbands His All-Star Players.

Detroit, April 9.—President Navin, of the Detroit American league baseball club, announced today that Ty Cobb, the club's center fielder, and champion batsman of the league, would not start the season with his team at St. Louis tomorrow. President Navin added that he intended to make no further inducements to Cobb, who is "holding out" for more salary.

Cobb Disbands Team.

Anniston, Ala., April 9.—Ty Cobb's team of "holdouts" was scheduled to play here tomorrow, but the game was cancelled today by Cobb. In his telegram to the local team Cobb said: "Disband today for a week pending definite news from Detroit. Hold engagement until you hear from me."

VOLUNTEERS READY FOR MOLEY'S BARONS

Nashville, Tenn., April 9.—The Nashville baseball club left here tonight for Birmingham, where they open against the Southern league champions tomorrow.

The locals are a slightly improved outfit over last year's club in all departments of the game, according to pre-season dope, and are in fine shape for tomorrow's battle.

The line-up:

ARCHER PLAYS FIRST IN OPENER TODAY

Chicago, April 9.—Reports today indicated that Victor Saier's ankle, which he injured in practice yesterday, will keep him out of the Chicago Nationals' opening game here tomorrow, and perhaps for several days will force him to stay on the invalid list. Archer probably will understudy Saier at first base, leaving the bulk of the catching to Bresnahan for the first few days. It is Manager Evers' intention to accustom Archer to first base anyway, so he can be used against left-handed pitchers.

EXHIBITION GAMES

Boston 8, Holy Cross 1.

Boston, April 9.—The world's champions had their last workout prior to the opening of the American league season at the expense of the Holy Cross team today, winning 8 to 1. The Red Sox fielded errorlessly in a biting cold.

MAJORS TO OPEN 1913 CAMPAIGN

Many Interesting Sidelights Will Be Flashed When the Season's Opening Gun Is Fired Today.

New York, April 9.—Firing will begin along practically the entire line tomorrow in the major league baseball circuits. The preliminary gun in Brooklyn today was set off with a considerable boom, but the big artillery is due to get into action tomorrow.

There will be formal "opening" in seven cities tomorrow afternoon, and the race for the National and American league pennants will be on in earnest.

Philadelphia, which, by virtue of its victory over Brooklyn in the only game of the day, holds undisputed possession of first place in the National league race, will have Brooklyn for an opponent again tomorrow, but with the scene of the encounter changed to the Quaker city.

In New York the champion Giants will meet the Bostons. In the west, St. Louis plays at Chicago. The Cincinnati field has been adjudged too wet for play, and the season there will not open until Saturday.

There was no preliminary opening in the American league, and the first games in that circuit are scheduled for tomorrow.

The Boston present worlds champions play on their home grounds with the Athletics, while New York and Washington will meet in the latter city. In the other half of the circuit the openings will be at Cleveland and St. Louis, with Chicago playing in the former and Detroit in the latter city.

Aside from enthusiasm incident to the annual opening of the season's play, varied reasons are responsible for especial interest in the showing several teams will make in tomorrow's contests. Boston and Philadelphia are admittedly strong rivals for the American league championship; both teams are in fine fettle, and a notable struggle between them is anticipated.

The form which the National league champions will show in their games with Stallings' men here is also a matter of interest. Johnny Evers will make his debut as a big league manager at the head of the Cubs in the game at St. Louis.

Chance's New Yorks, pursued as in former seasons by the "jinx" with accidents to several of the team's mainstays already recorded, will go into its game with Washington seriously handicapped. Detroit will be without the services of its brightest star, Tyrus Cobb, who still is a holdout.

In the game here, Tesreau for New York, and Perdue for Boston, are the probable pitching selections.

No-Hit Game.

Annapolis, Md., April 9.—Through Seibert's wonderful pitching, Navy easily defeated Cornell today 4 to 0. Not a hit was made off his delivery, and he struck out fifteen men.

Otto Jordan Slated For Can; Lookouts Pass Up Ex-Cracker; Elberfeld Wants Youngsters

Chattanooga, Tenn., April 9.—(Special.)—Otto Jordan, the league's oldest player in point of service, will probably be released by Chattanooga in a few days.

This startling announcement was made by Manager Elberfeld, of the locals, on the eve of the opening of the 1913 campaign. The desire of the local mogul for young blood is said to be the reason.

Elberfeld also announces the purchase of two new players who may get here in time to participate in the second and third games of the Cracker series and will change the personnel of the local infield.

Douglas Harbison, who played short for the Crackers last season, was purchased from the New York Americans and will probably be played at third base.

Carl Flick, who pastimed here a short while last spring, was secured from the Philadelphia Athletics. He is slated to supplant Jordan.

By a strang coincidence, Chattanooga released Flick last spring to make room for Jordan. Flick went to New Haven and was drafted by the Athletics.

SNOW POSTPONES OPENING GAMES

Minneapolis, Minn., April 9.—President M. E. Cantillon, of the Minneapolis baseball club, of the American association, announced late today that the opening game of the season, which was to have been played with Indianapolis tomorrow, will be postponed until Friday. A snowstorm which prevailed here throughout the day is the reason. The opening game between St. Paul and Columbus also will be postponed.

Sands in Finals.

Boston, April 9.—Charles Sands, of the Racquet and Tennis club, New York, won his way into the final tennis of the national amateur court tennis championship today by defeating Dr. G. S. Derby, of Boston, in a four-set match.

The third set ran fourteen games.

Summaries:

Semi-finals:

Charles E. Sands, New York, beat G. S. Derby, Boston, 6-4, 6-0, 6-8, 8-2.

Joshua Crane, Boston, beat D. P. Rhodes, Boston, 6-2, 6-1, 6-1.

TEXAS LEAGUE OPENS 1913 SEASON TODAY

Dallas, Texas, April 9.—With the promise of fine weather, the Texas league of eight clubs will open the baseball season in the Lone Star state tomorrow. Galveston will play at Beaumont; Houston at San Antonio; Fort Worth at Austin and Dallas at Waco.

Harry Tappan Dead.

New York, April 9.—Harry Tappan, of San Antonio, Texas, widely known in sporting circles as a breeder of polo ponies, died suddenly today at a hotel near the Meadow Brook Country club, on Long island. Tappan came to New York last Saturday with a carload of polo ponies, and had completed negotiations for the sale of twenty to poloists who are to take part in the international polo match at the Meadow Brook club in June, when he was taken ill yesterday. He was 45 years old.

SCHLESINGER WILL TAKE EMPLOYEES TO OPENING GAME MONDAY IN A BODY

Harry L. Schlesinger, the well-known candy manufacturer, is the first merchant to get in behind the movement to land the opening day attendance trophy for the local club.

Mr. Schlesinger announced Wednesday afternoon that not only will he grant a half holiday to every employee, but he is going to purchase tickets for them and will head the procession in special cars to the ball park.

Mr. Schlesinger Boosts.

"Atlanta must land that opening day trophy," said Mr. Schlesinger, "and I am heartily in accord with the movement to make Monday the banner attendance day, not only for Atlanta, but to set a record for the league for time to come.

"I am going to let my employees off for the afternoon. I am going to do even better than that. I am going to pay their way to the park, and the Birmingham club will know we are there. There will be two hundred of us, and we will make a grand lot of noise."

With Mr. Schlesinger taking the initiative, other merchants of the city are sure to fall into line and boost the attendance figures Monday afternoon.

Free Pass Holders.

From an unexepected source comes another boost for the opening day crowd. Some holders of free passes for the season have announced that they intend to pay their way to the game Monday, and they urge fellow passholders to do the same.

Said one of these men: "It is the official paid attendance that counts. The local club has given us the courtesy of a season complimentary ticket unsolicited. In this movement, when they are trying to surpass all the other cities in paid attendance opening day, it would be in the nature of thanks if the passholders would contribute their admission fee to this one contest.

"All the passes that have been issued will be honored by the baseball club, regardless, but these will not swell the attendance of the local club one iota, and I, for one, intend to pay my way."

Mayor to Pitch Ball.

It was announced by the local association Wednesday afternoon that Mayor Woodward had agreed to toss the first ball of the season. The mayor is in hearty sympathy with the large attendance movement, and is going to do all in his power to make it a success.

The banks of the city close their doors on every business day except Saturday at 2 o'clock. Some of the bankers, visited by representatives of the baseball club, agreed to allow their clerks permission to attend the game in the afternoon.

HARRY SCHLESINGER,
Who is actively behind opening day attendance movement.

A list of the merchants, both retail and wholesale, who will agree to allow their clerks to attend the game will be secured today, and others are expected to follow their example the following day.

Fifteen thousand persons would make an ideal opening day crowd, and would be so far ahead of anything any other city could boast of that the record would stand for years to come.

There are double, perhaps triple, that number of baseball fans in the city, but they have never been assembled at the park at one time.

If half the fans in the city, or even a third would attend Monday's game, the trophy for the largest paid attendance, offered by President Kavanaugh, of the league, would be sure to come here.

Bill Smith's team is deserving of the patronage. The city's reputation as a baseball town is at stake. The other cities say we claim a lot and then never do it when the actual show-down comes.

What are you going to do about it? It's strictly up to you, Mr. Fan, Mr. Merchants Mr. Wholesaler and Mr. Retailer. All together!

CITY NEWS

MICHIGAN WINS FROM SEWANEE

Sewanee, Tenn., April 9.—(Special.) Michigan administered the first defeat of the season to Sewanee this afternoon in a closely played game by the score of 8 to 2. Gordon pitched in hard luck, the Wolverines hitting him in the pinches just when hits meant runs.

Sewanee's fielding was erratic at times, but the infield settled down and played splendid ball toward the end of the game. Dinkins caught a splendid game, while Fanning and Hammond showed in the field.

For Michigan, Quaintance was the whole show, having perfect control and holding the Sewanee batters in pinches. Rogers caught a good game for the Wolverines and McQueen played fine ball at second.

Sisler and Eggleston will pitch tomorrow's game.

Harbison, Former Cracker, Released by the Yanks to Chattanooga Lookouts

New York, April 9.—Major league baseball teams here have already begun cutting down their strings in preparation for compliance with the twenty-five player limit rule. Manager Frank Chance, of the New York Americans, who yesterday disposed of Pitcher "Paddy" Green to the Pittsburg Nationals, today announced that he had let five more lpayers go.

He has released Shortstop Douglas Harbison to Chattanooga, of the Southern league; Third Baseman John Priest to Rochester, of the International league; Pitcher George Davis to Jersey City, of the International league, Shortstop Finley to Troy, and Pitcher Gaiser to Albany, of the New York State league.

Manager McGraw, of the New York Nationals, announced the release of Pitcher Lou Bader to the Dallas team, of the Texas league.

FLOOD FUND CLIMBING TO THE $10,000 MARK

The call for help from the flood-stricken districts of the middle west continues to come to The Constitution. Appeals are daily both by letter and wire. The leaders of the rescue work in these sections declare that without outside assistance they are powerless.

The flood fund is slowly climbing to the $10,000-mark. Subscriptions to date amount to $8,709.32.

The standing is as follows:

ALL THE NEWS OF REAL ESTATE AND BUILDING

It was learned definitely on Wednesday that the site of the new Dougherty-Little-Redwine company is to be Nos. 90-92 South Pryor street, in the heart of an already thriving wholesale colony. The new site is on the east side of the street, between Trinity avenue and Mitchell street.

The lot is owned by Mrs. John A. Bowers, mother of J. S. Akers, and the building is to be erected by Mr. Akers' direction under a long term lease.

It is understood the building is to cost about $40,000, and the lot is valued at about the same figure. The building will be five stories high and will be one of the most modern in the city.

Mr. Little says that he was largely influenced to locate there by the argument of Nunnally and McCrea and other wholesalers in favor of this section. In addition to being only three blocks from both of the passenger stations, the company will be the same distance from the freight depots. One of the wholesale concerns located in this section is said to have handled a million dollar business last year with a one horse team.

New Wholesale Colony.

South Pryor street is a level, broad thoroughfare and just far enough away from the smoke of railroads and factories to make it the logical street for millinery, shoes, clothing and such concerns as want to be near the retail center.

Already Kutz, Rhodes and Bodenheimer, wholesale millinery firms, are on this street, the two former being located on each side of the new location of Dougherty-Little-Redwine Co.,

THE SHORT-CUT TO WEALTH

West Peachtree Street

THIS IS an age of speed and efficiency. The quickest efficient way is the inevitable way. Time counts. Every short cut means money.

Did it ever occur to you that West Peachtree street is the shortest cut between the city and north side homes? Did it ever occur to you that West Peachtree street's efficiency will be trebled when the new grade is done? Trebled efficiency means trebled traffic; trebled traffic means trebled values.

We offer you a bargain on West Peachtree street, just below Alexander street, at $500 per front foot today, on easy terms. A year from now West Peachtree street will be regraded.

Think for yourself!

WILSON REFUSES TO COERCE STATE

President Will Not Interfere With the Pending Anti-Japanese Legislation in California.

Washington, April 9.—President Wilson let it be known today that the federal government would not interfere with pending legislation in California by which aliens who have not declared their intention of becoming naturalized as American citizens, are prohibited from owning land or property. He communicated this decision informally to Representative Baker.

Though the measure is aimed primarily at the Japanese, the fact that it makes no discrimination of race in its contents as well as the desire of the president not to interfere with the sovereignty of the state has precluded any action by the federal government at this time.

Question of State Sovereignty.

The president was told by Mr. Baker that the people of California would enact the law through the initiative and referendum if the legislature refused to pass it. He declared the sentiment was 5 to 1 in favor of the law. The president's position had been merely that of an inquirer.

Representative Baker had shown the president a telegram from J. B. Sanford, a leader in the senate of California, requesting that the federal government should not interfere with local affairs. The president's decision today, Mr. Baker said, would find approval in California.

President Wilson told Mr. Baker the whole question touched the sovereignty of the state, and he left it to California to make such laws as it deemed advisable for itself.

It is believed that the protest of the Japanese government will be held in the state department until the legislation is actually passed. Then the constitutionality of the measure may be tested in the United States courts by Japanese residents in California.

It is understood in official circles that neither President Wilson nor Secretary Bryan will desist using their good offices in a personal way to avert what the Japanese government might construe as an affront.

Indignation in Japan.

Tokio, April 9.—Widespread irritation has been aroused in Japan by the proposed anti-Japanese legislation in California. Commercial men threaten to boycott the Panama-Pacific exposition unless the objectionable bills are withdrawn.

The Japanese foreign office is optimistic, and believes that a satisfactory solution will be found.

The exclusive committee of the national liberty party passed a resolution today urging the governments of Japan and the United States to prevent the passage of the California land ownership bill, owing to the serious effect it will have on interests of the two nations and on their relations.

Fire in Marshallville.

Marshallville, Ga., April 9.—(Special.)—The residence of Dr. J. E. Haslam was completely burned yesterday afternoon. The loss is about $2,500, with insurance of $1,500.

THREE CASHIERS HELD BY TOILS OF THE LAW

Raleigh, N. C., April 9.—Three cashiers, one of them the secretary-treasurer of the State's Trust company, the Wilmington organization promoting rural banks, are under arrest and the banks in which they worked are in receiverships.

E. H. Bowlds, cashier of the Macclesfield back and secretary-treasurer of the State's Trust company, is in jail at Raleigh, held under a $5,000 bond. Demit Laffoon, cashier of the Claremont bank, in Catawaba county, is being brought to Raleigh, and J. A. Bickers, cashier of the Angier bank, was arrested today, all arrested and indicted men being charged with "violation of the banking laws of North Carolina."

Tonight notices were sent to state newspapers declaring notes held in the three defunct banks, to be fraudulent and announcement is made that payment will be protested.

President Ector Smith and Vice-President W. O. Tarver, of the promoting company, are not to be found and descriptions of both men are being sent to police headquarters in every town of size in North Carolina.

The State Corporation commission, which intervened after the third of the proposed twenty rural banks had been organized, today found five new villages in which the company had been soliciting stock, but had not actually organized.

Cashiers Laffoon and Bickers will be brought here to give testimony against Smith, Tarver and Bowlds.

Organized by Strangers.

Wilmington, N. C., April 9.—The States Trust company was organized only a few months ago by strangers with no connection with any established banking institution here, an office having been rented in the downtown section. Officers today succeeded in locating the so-called Wilmington office of the company, but no one was in charge and no trace of any of the company's officers could be found, neither could any residence address of the officers here be established.

ROBBERS SURROUNDED BY PURSUING POSSES

Chattanooga, Tenn., April 9.—Detectives from Atlanta together with R. E. Barry, postoffice inspector, who have been on the trail of the robbers who blew the safe of the Summerville, Ga., bank Teusday morning, declare they have the robbers surrounded in the mountains near Dalton. They say the men are in a position where they will have no chance to escape and that they will have to come out and surrender or starve.

The robbers secured $3,000 in cash and stamps to the value of over $1,150. Evidence is said to have been secured to prove that the robbers started out on the Summerville job from Chattanooga. They are said to be expert cracksmen and to have pulled off one of their best jobs in the Summerville bank.

DON'T WED UNDER 21, SAYS MRS. PIDCOCK

porter of his attitude toward the erring daughter. Mrs. Pidcock wept as her father declared his trust in her.

"She's going home with me, now," he said, "and she's going to stay. I don't care what she's done in the past, and I'm not worrying over what other folks think. She's my little girl, and she's as good to me as a daughter ever was. I love her and she loves me. There never was a better girl, and there never will be.

"We're going home and we're going to forget all this. She's going to belong to me and nobody else. I don't care if she does want to protect that Glenn, and I'm not going to try and dissuade her from it. I've got my opinions and she's got hers. She is my daughter, and I will always love her, no matter what she thinks—or does."

GLENN REACHES CITY.

Rather Die Than Live With Wife, He Says.

Luther J. Glenn, formerly of Atlanta, but recently of Houston, Texas, sitting in an automobile on the Terminal station plaza yesterday afternoon, turned to face the newspaper reporters gathered around the car and the squad of camera men who volleyed at him.

"You can say this much," he hurled at the reporters, "that so far as a reconciliation with this wife of mine, I would choose death in preference. I'm going to jail, now, and if its a choice between living with her and staying there I'll do a lifetime sentence."

He arrived at 2:25 o'clock on the Atlanta and West Point limited from New Orleans. He was a prisoner of Detective Boling B. Haslett, of police headquarters. Glenn was in buoyant spirits, and posed smilingly for the photographers. Apparently he did not seem perturbed over the prospects of going to prison.

Mrs. Pidcock Reaches City.

Mrs. Ione Pidcock, wife of the railway magnate, who eloped with Glenn early in the summer of 1912, preceded him on a train that arrived from New Orleans at 10:30 o'clock Wednesday morning. She was accompanied by her father, S. D. Reed. After eluding an army of reporters and photographers, who awaited her at the Terminal, she went to the office of her attorney, W. M. Smith, where they held a short conference.

Later, she and Mr. Reed went to police headquarters to consult Chief Beavers. There, Mr. Reed made known his intention to prosecute the contractor who had eloped with his daughter, and requested that the trial he held as early as possible. Glenn will probably be arraigned before Recorder Broyles some time today.

Mrs. Pidcock and her father went from police station to the Young Woman's Christian association quarters at 19 West Baker street, where they failed to find lodging accommodations. They will remain in the city until Glenn's trial.

Mrs. Pidcock still declares that she will aid the prisoner in every possible manner.

"I fully intend to marry Mrs. Pidcock," Glenn told a reporter for The Constitution. "I've filed plea for divorce and expect to obtain it. She has already been divorced. We love each other, and we'll finally marry."

He did not express a desire to procure bond. "I don't mind staying in jail," he said, "and I'd just as soon be there as at liberty. I'll soon be a free man, anyhow, so there's no use rushing matters. I'd rather spend a life sentence in prison than a year with the woman I married."

"Mrs. Pidcock left her home and husband because of ill-treatment," he said. "She didn't desert Pidcock, he deserted her. She was treated outrageously. I never knew her until their first plea for divorce was filed. Divorce proceedings were well under way before I became acquainted with her.

"I never carried her away from Moultrie, and she never followed me. Neither did I follow her. And I'm not saying whether I lived with her, or didn't. That'll all develop in court.

"I'm satisfied I'll be cleared of the charges against me. In the first place, they were brought purely because of spite. I never deserted that woman, neither did I abandon the children, and she's well aware of the fact. I couldn't live with her. Life was unbearable with her. And she well knows it. We both were unhappy, discontented and mismated. Our married life was an utter failure."

Glenn would not dwell upon the subject of his career with Mrs. Pidcock. Declaring that it all would be told in court, he refused to comment upon the sensational elopement.

"Wait until the trial," he assured. "You'll hear enough sensation then."

After his name had been entered on the police blotter, Glenn was transferred to the Tower. In giving information to the desk sergeant at police headquarters, he gave as his address the world-at-large.

Has No Particular Home.

"I haven't got any particular home," he smiled; "I'm 30 years old, and a carpenter by trade. I used to be a contractor."

Chief Beavers said last night that Mrs. Pidcock's trip to the police station was to visit Glenn, whom she thought had arrived before she and her father got into town. She had prevailed upon her father to accompany her on the trip to headquarters, and declared she would visit the prisoner before he was taken to trial.

Mrs. Glenn is still with the Dean family at 107 Piedmont avenue, where she will remain until the trial. She has been reticent in talking of the sensational case.

The charges on which Glenn will be placed on trial are abandonment, desertion of minor children and adultery, all of which were named in the warrants sworn out by his wife.

Chief Lanford told a Constitution reporter Wednesday that he did not believe the white slavery charges, upon which the prosecution had pinned much dependence, would stand the acid test, as coercion is the principal condition.

ATLANTA STRIDES FROM DAY TO DAY

In fact, the wholesalers have been so quietly settling, as their leases expire, in this district that the public would perhaps be surprised to know that within a radius of two blocks of Pryor and Mitchell street are about a dozen shoe, clothing and millinery concerns, including M. C. Kiser Co., McConnell Dry Goods Co., Nunnally and McCrea, E. L. Rhodes, M. Kutz, National Hat Co., M. Loeb & Co., Bodenheimer & Co., S. P. Richards, etc.

Dougherty-Little-Redwine, who formerly occupied a site which sold at $3,300 per foot, feel they have a much improved location at about $750 per foot since they are nearer to buyers who arrive in Atlanta through the Terminal station and are just as near to those arriving at the Union station.

Fort Street Sale.

C. A. Wynn, of the M. L. Thrower agency, has sold for J. H. Whitten to Mrs. Caroline L. Barnett, No. 104 Fort street, a negro apartment house on a lot 56 1-2x162, for $9,750. This property is located 100 feet south of Edgewood avenue.

New Building Concern Locates.

The importance of Atlanta as a building center is again emphasized by the location of another big New York construction company's branch here.

The Cauldwell-Wingate company, of New York city, has opened offices in the Candler building, from where it will do a local and southern construction business. The manager of the Atlanta branch is W. B. Paye.

Here is a list of some of the buildings the new comers have recently completed or have now under course of construction in New York city:

20-story building at S. E. corner 25th street and Madison avenue.

16-story building at S. E. corner 29th street and Madison avenue.

CLOSURE RESOLUTION STIRS CANADA SOLONS

Ottawa, April 9.—The introduction today of the first closure resolution ever presented in the Canadian parliament was followed by scenes of great confusion. Even Sir Wilfrid Laurier, the former premier, lost his customary calm and became visibly angered.

When Premier Borden concluded his speech on the closure resolution, which was introduced to limit debate on the naval bill, Minister Hazen rose to move the question, hoping thereby to cut off amendments, but Sir Wilfrid, already on his feet, was recognized. Another conservative member cited rules permitting the house to decide whether, in such a case, it would hear anyone, and moved that Minister Hazen be allowed to speak. This motion was carried, and Mr. Hazen moved the previous question. Then came a disorderly scene. Sir Wilfrid's supporters sprang to their feet with cries of "Shame." There was a babel of demands for "fair play" and epithets were freely bandied. The tumult continued until a motion to adjourn was carried.

Jack cut down the beanstalk and the giant came to earth. Jack used a trusty hatchet and kept hacking away until he accomplished his purpose.

LATEST REPORTS FROM ALL OF THE MARKETS

COTTON MORE ACTIVE; CLOSED AT ADVANCE

Unfavorable Weather in South Main Factor in the Advance.

New York, April 9.—The cotton market was more active today, and ruled higher, owing to unfavorable weather in the south and increased apprehensions of flood damage in the Mississippi valley, with the close steady at a net advance of from 8 to 11 points.

The market opened firm at an advance of 6 to 9 points, in response to higher cables, reports of heavy rains in the central belt, covering of shorts and a moderate commission house demand. The eastern belt forecast for showers or local rains added to the nervousness of the short interest apparently, and the demand became quite active during the middle of the morning, with prices selling about 9 to 13 points net higher. Realizing checked the advance around this level and caused slight reactions, but selling was held in check by the character of the weather news and reports that advices to the weather bureau indicated that the flood situation had been rendered more serious by the heavy precipitation reported at some points in the Mississippi valley. At any rate, prices firmed up again in the late trading on private reports from Little Rock, indicating that fully nine inches of rain had fallen at that point, and the market closed within a point or two of the best.

Private cables reported a steady market in Liverpool, with shorts buying on the unfavorable weather news. Locally, business was quite active in the morning, but comparatively quiet after midday, and one of the features of the trading was heavy buying of new crop positions by prominent Wall street interests, who, some thought, were hedging old crop shorts.

Reports from Texas said that the rains there were beneficial, and several advices were received indicating a new favorable crop outlook in that state.

There was reports also from Georgia, indicating favorable new crop conditions, but there were continued reports of a better export demand, and the unsettled weather reported over the greater part of the belt evidently increased apprehensions of a late or possibly unfavorable new crop start.

Cotton spot closed quiet; middling uplands, 12.60; do. gulf, 12.85; no sales.

Dry Goods.

New York, April 9.—The cotton goods markets are quiet with prices on gray cloths easy. Yarns are dull. Men's wear is very quiet. The jobbers are doing a moderate fall business and a restricted current trade.

Liverpool Cotton.

Liverpool, April 9.—Cotton spot 3 points higher; middling, 6.98; sales, 10,000 bales, including 9,100 American; receipts, 19,000 bales. Futures opened quiet and closed very steady.

Gibert & Clay.

New York, April 9.—Unfavorable weather over the cotton belt, with a probability of its continuance during the next 48 hours influenced short covering today, which advanced prices to a moderate extent. While the buying did not increase materially the demand was in better volume of late and selling showed a tendency to cautiousness.

Hubbard Bros. & Co.

New York, April 9.—Manchester spinners continued to buy steadily in Liverpool, giving a stronger tone to that market than due. Heavy rains in the Mississippi valley, with nearly 9 inches fall at Little Rock, is indeed a serious matter at a time when the Mississippi river is higher than ever before. With the exception of 1 or 2 buying orders from Wall street, the unfavorable crop news and the strength abroad did not change the attitude of the local traders towards the market, which finally closed steady at 10 points advance. This demand from spinners in England and on the continent is likely to cotinue. Our own spinners are looking at the tariff today more than at present demand and supply, but a better demand is reported from several southern ports. We expect higher foreign markets than due tomorrow.

COLD WEATHER MADE WHEAT PRICES JUMP

Market Closed One-Half to Five-Eighths Cent Higher—Corn and Oats Up.

Chicago, April 9.—Strength was imparted to wheat today by cold weather, which was reported to be retarding spring seeding, and talk of large exports. The net result was a gain of 1-2@5-8 to 5-8. Corn made a net advance of 7-8@ 1 to 1 1-8, oats were up 5-8 to 7-8 and provisions were 5 to 20 higher.

Delay to seeding of spring wheat in the northwest, because of bad weather, was said to be growing serious. Three states are covered with snow to a depth of about 4 inches. If the planting was to be done in a satisfactory manner, perfect weather, it was said, would be needed from now on. Buying, which followed these reports, was also prompted by a bullis foreign summary, showing that Europe would probably be a arge buyer as native offerings were inadequate. Concrete support was partly given to this view by the fact that Baltimore was reported as having cleared 120,000 bushels. Yesterday's bearish government crop report was ignored after the opening and many who sold yesterday were buyers today. Primary receipts of wheat today were 300,000 bushels against 600,000 (two days) a year ago. Seaboard clearances of wheat and flour equaled 784,000 bushels.

An active bull market in corn was the result of wet weather over almost the entire corn country. General belief seemed to be that not only would field work be delayed, but that marketing would be handicapped also. Big buyers were in the market and supplies were light.

Fears that oats seeding would be greatly retarded by wet weather made that market strong.

Provisions showed general firmness. There was a good demand and offerings were not large. There was good buying of lard by some of the large packers and this caused considerable covering of shorts.

Coffee.

New York, April 9.—Coffee futures opened steady at a decline of 7 points on April, but generally 4 to 11 points higher, on profit-taking by recent sellers, rather better European cables than expected and buying on the reaction theory. Closing European cables were lower, however, and prices here eased off during the middle of the day, under continued liquidation and reports of a lower cost and freight market. Demand was active at the decline, which carried prices back about the close of yesterday and the market later firmed, on heavy covering support for the trade sources and a continued demand from reactionists. The close was firm. Sales, 212,750.

Mild dull; Cordova, 14½@17½, nominal.

STOCK MARKET HEAVY IN THE AFTERNOON

Turn in Market Followed the Announcement of New Security Issues.

New York, April 9.—After a showing of strength in the early trading, the stock market turned heavy today, some of the leading issues falling more than 2 points from the best prices of the morning. Trading was active at times and movements were irregular. The improvement of the morning was based on he more cheerful feeling abroad, cable advices reporting a betterment of both political and financial affairs. London bought about 15,000 shares here, specializing in Erie. Bull traders operated confidently for a time, buying large blocks of the favorable issues and forcing further short covering.

The turn in the market came with the announcement of several new security issues, chief among which were St. Paul's sale of $30,000,000 4½ per cent general mortgage bonds, and Pennsylvania's offering to stockholders of $45,000,000 stock at par. It has been generally understood for some time that these companies, as well as many other large corporations, were only awaiting an improvement in the investment demand to float new security issues. There has been some improvement in bond buying recently, but the market's absorptive power is still limited, and in more than one instance underwriters have been left with large unsold balances on their hands. The effect of Pennsylvania's offer was to depress the stock 3½ points, to 115½, the lowest figure since 1908. St. Paul's movements were narrow.

The point of interest in connection with the St. Paul bond issue was that the company found it necessary to pay 4½ per cent, previous issues under the general mortgage having been made at 3½ and 4 per cent. St. Paul general fours have declined 2 points in so many days, and bankers predicted that the effect of the high rate of interest on this class of bonds would be felt by other issues of similar character.

Announcement that the attorney general was opposed to the Harriman dissolution plan, which is to be presented to the federal courts, contributed to the heaviness of the market, which was manifested especially in the railroad stocks. Steel and the copper shares also were sold heavily.

Bonds were under slight pressure. Total sales, par value, $3,900,000. United States bonds unchanged on call.

London Stock Market.

London, September 9.—With a growing belief that Montenegro will abandon her attempt to take Scutari, the stock market again advanced. But prices closed below the best owing to profit-taking. American securities opened firm and during the forenoon advanced from ¼ to 1⅛ above parity on covering. In the late trading the market closed steady.

New York, April 9.—Had there been any aggressive bulls in the cotton market a very sharp advance might have been forced today. Weather news was mad, and there was nervousness among the shorts and some good buying of new crop months for European account. The market opened at an advance of 4 to 6 points, and closed steady at an advance of 8 to 10 points. Sentiment has been so bearish that the market is technically in a strong position and it seems very dangerous to be short.

Liverpool is due to come unchanged to 1 point up.

STIMULANTS USED ON POPE'S HEART

Official Reports Say Pontiff's Condition Is Not Grave, But He Is Said to Be Very Weak—Pilgrims Watch.

Rome, April 9.—All official reports regarding the condition of Pope Pius X agree that his conditon is not grave and that there is no immediate danger. Anxiety, however, continues on account of the weakness of the pontiff and the action of his heart, which is in need of constant stimulation.

The attending physicians found that the condition of the pope had improved during the night and this improvement was maintained throughout the day, although the afternoon temperature showed a slight increase. Again this evening his temperature rose slightly, but the difference from that of the afternoon was hardly perceptible.

Suffers From Depression.

The patient's weakness is being treated by the regular administration of eggs beaten in milk, but the lack of nourishment contributes to the depression from which the pope suffers.

Professor Marchiafava visited the pope only twice today, morning and evening, and expressed satisfaction at the course the illness is taking. The pope's sisters and nieces spent much time at the bedside and when not there were kept constantly informed by telephone as to the progress of events.

The pope has expressed terror at what the newspapers are capable of inventing about his relapse.

When during the afternoon he felt the effect of a thunderstorm of extraordinary violence the pope remarked that his organism was so sensitive to atmospheric changes that he had come to be a kind of a barometer and thermometer.

Pilgrims Watch in Rain.

The spectacle of the immense square in front of St. Peters today recalled the scenes during the illness of Pope Leo XIII, but instead of a burning July sun, as in 1903, there was a downpour of rain. This did not prevent thousands of pilgrims from gathering and gazing with grave anxiety at the three windows of the room on the third floor of the apostolic palace where the pope lies, or from directing sympathetic glances at the little house in the square below where the sisters of the pope occupy a moderate apartment on the top floor.

Professor Marchiafava expressed himself as highly indignant at the exaggerated reports that had been circulated. He gave solemn assurances that the pope's illness was running a perfectly normal course and said that if no complications arose he would guarantee that the pontiff would be convalescent within a week. Dr. Marchiafava spoke with the greatest apparent sincerity.

750 METHODIST STEWARDS GATHER AT GRACE CHURCH

When the 750 members of the Atlanta Methodist Stewards' association gather Thursday night at Grace Methodist church, there will be interesting and enthusastic discusion of the livest issues in the city's affairs today.

It will be the regular annual meeting of the association, but besides conducting the business of the organization, a real live program has been prepared that will keep things buzzing merrily for several hours, beginning at 8 in the evening.

Five live-wire talks of five minutes each, from five live-wire stewards, will be followed by informal discussion of the problems presented in their addresses.

Every pastor, local preacher, steward, trustee, Sunday school superintendent, Epworth league president and official Methodist within the bounds of the Atlanta district will be expected to attend, the membership of the Atlanta Methodist tSewards' asociation beng that broad in its scope. Officers for the coming year are to be elected. Since the people of Grace church are noted for their cordial hospitality, a delightful evening is promised to all who attend.

J. E. GASTON INDICTED ON FORGERY CHARGES

Following his indictment by the grand jury yesterday morning on a charge of forgery, J. E. Gaston, of 55 West Cain street, formerly in the United States revenue service, was released Wednesday night on $1,000 bond, signed by Evan P. Howell.

Gaston is charged by Pinkerton detectives with forging the names of a number of people and thereby getting $500 in the last two months. He was indicted at a special session of the grand jury and was arrested a few hours later. The indictment states that he forged the names of T. E. Adams, W. H. Towery, P. D. Diggs and Robinson & King.

STRENUOUS COURTING LANDS SINCLAIR IN JAIL

Allentown, Pa., April 9.—Six months in jail and a fine of $300 was the penalty imposed on Samuel Sinclair here today for the strenuous methods he employed in paying court to Miss Anna Steckel, daughter of one of Allentown's wealthiest citizens. Soon after Sinclair, a young engineer, met Miss Steckel, he proposed marriage to her. She declined. Last January Si clair, with his cousin, R. Walter Starr, drove to the Steckel residence in an automobile. When Miss Steckel appeared she was carried to the car. Driving at a furious pace through town, the chauffeur wrecked his machine. The men were arrested. Sinclair said he intended to take Miss Steckel to the country and compel her to marry him. Starr paid a fine of $25 for his part in the escapade.

UNITARIANS OF SOUTH HERE FOR CONFERENCE

President Patterson, of New Orleans, Delivers Annual Address Thursday.

For the twenty-fifth annual session, the southern conference of the Unitarian church convenes in Atlanta Thursday afternoon, and will last through Sunday, with daily business meetings and addresses.

President Charles H. Patterson, of New Orleans, will open the conference Thursday at 2:30 o'clock, with the delivery of his annual address. The secretary, Rev. John W. Rowlett, former pastor of the Atlanta church, will make his report at this time, followed by a business session.

The opening meeting will be held in the Universalist church, on East Harris street, and all the following meetings will be held in the Woman's Club building, on Baker street, just off Peachtree. The local Unitarian congregation has recently sold the church building on Spring street, and it is at present without a home, pending the construction of a handsome new building.

Rev. George Kent, of New Orleans, will deliver the annual conference sermon Thursday evening at 8 o'clock in the Woman's Club building. Friday morning at 11 o'clock an address will be given by Rev. Alfred Manchester, of Boston, representing the American Unitarian association. Thirty or forty delegates from different parts of the south are in the city for the conference. Among them is Rev. George Badger, of San Antonio, Texas, who will speak Sunday morning at 11 o'clock.

COLEMAN IS REMOVED TO PREVENT LYNCHING

Abbeville, Ga., April 9.—(Special.)—Owing to the fact that threats and rumors were circulated throughout the community that a crowd was contemplating a raid on the jail at this place, in an effort to lynch Pete Coleman, the sheriff removed his prisoner to Fitzgerald Tuesday.

Coleman, with a party of several other men, waylaid and shot to death a young man about 17 years old near Rochelle Sunday night.

Previous trouble between the parties is said to be the cause of the killing.

WITH THE THEATERS

"Between Showers."

(At the Lyric.)

Mike Donlin, the great baseball player who is in the cast of "Between Showers" at the Lyric next week, previous to going with the Philadelphia National league club was a member of the Cincinnati, Pittsburg and New York National league teams and considered the best "pinch hitter" in either league.

The securing of Donlin to support Mr. Grapewin in "Between Showers" was a sure hit, as Mike can act as well as he plays ball.

For the presentation of this play Mr. Grapewin has surrounded himself with a competent company and a sumptuous production.

"Ten Nights in a Barroom."

(At the Lyric.)

"Ten Nights in a Barroom," the famous old play with its laughter and tears, is scoring a big hit this week at the Lyric. It has been many years since this play was offered to an Atlanta audience and it is not surprising that its revival should draw large audiences. For tomorrow night the bill will be changed to "Dr. Jekyl and Mr. Hyde," resuming for Saturday afternoon and night "Ten Nights in a Barroom."

Neil O'Brien's Minstrels.

(At the Atlanta.)

Tomorrow night the Neil O'Brien Minstrels will make the initial bow to an Atlanta audience at the new Atlanta theater. This organization is new, but it is claimed to be the best troupe of the year. Organized last August, the O'Brien boys have swept the country and have won applause in every part of the United States in which they have appeared. Their reception here is sure to be enthusiastic, for O'Brien has a tremendous personal following which will assist in welcoming him in his new venture. He is the star of the company, but is assisted by many other funmakers of rare ability with the result that a show of superlative entertaining powers is given. Seats are now selling for the engagement, which includes a Saturday matinee and night performance.

D. R. Pringle Re-elected.

Thomasville, Ga., April 9.—(Special.) At the meeting of city council this week D. R. Pringle was re-elected superintendent of the electric light and water plant. Mr. Pringle was opposed for the office by J. A. Epply, former superintendent of waterworks here. Mr. Pringle received 7 votes and Mr. Epply 1.

STATE OF GEORGIA, County of Fulton:

To the Superior Court of Said County—The petition of Edward O. Miles and Carl F. Hutcheson, of Fulton County, Georgia, respectfully shows:

That they desire for themselves, their associates and successors to be incorporated and made a body politic under the name and style of "National Bureau of Investigation," for the term of twenty (20) years.

The principal office of said company shall be in the City of Atlanta, state and county aforesaid; but Petitioners desire the right to establish branch offices within this State, elsewhere in the United States, Territories and Colonial possessions of the United States, and in all foreign countries, wherever a majority of the stockholders may so determine.

3.

The object of said corporation is pecuniary gain to itself and its stockholders.

The business to be carried on by said corporation is to handle all kinds and manners of detective work and matters, namely, criminal, civil, commercial, secret service, work for National, State and Private Banks, Trust Companies, railroads, steamship and transportation lines, municipalities, general investigations, auditing and collecting for all manner of concerns, and all corporations and persons, corporate or individual, and to do everything within the scope and purview of a detective or detectives and detective agencies; and to employ detectives and subordinates to do such work as may be necessary to gain information and carry out the purposes of said agency, or its branches.

The capital stock of said corporation shall be Ten Thousand ($10,000.00) Dollars, with the privilege of increasing the same to the sum of One Hundred Thousand ($100,000.00) Dollars by a majority vote of the stockholders, said stock to be divided into shares of the par value of One Hundred ($100.00) Dollars each. Ten (10) per cent of the amount of capital to be employed by them has been actually paid in. Petitioners desire the right to have the subscriptions to said capital stock paid in money or property, to be taken at a fair valuation.

Petitioners desire the right to sue and be sued, to plead and be impleaded, to have and use a common seal, to make all necessary by-laws and regulations, and to do all other things that may be necessary for the successful carrying on of said business, including the right to buy, hold and sell real estate and personal property, suitable to the purposes of the corporation, and to execute notes and bonds as evidence of indebtedness incurred, or which may be incurred, in the conduct of the affairs of the corporation, and to secure the same by mortgage, security deed, or other form of lien under existing laws.

Petitioners desire for said incorporation the power and authority to apply for and accept amendments to its charter, of either form or substance, by a vote of a majority of its stock outstanding at the time. They also ask authority for said incorporation to wind up its affairs, liquidate and discontinue its business at any time it may determine to do so by a vote of a majority of its stock outstanding at the time.

Petitioners desire for said incorporation the right of renewal when and as provided by the laws of Georgia, and that it have all such other rights, powers, privileges and immunities as are incident to like incorporations, or permissible under the laws of Georgia.

WHEREFORE, Petitioners pray to be incorporated under the name and style aforesaid, with the powers, privileges and immunities herein set forth, and as are now or may hereafter be allowed a corporation of similar character under the laws of Georgia.
